WOLFPACK OFFENSE

Marcus Stone

QUARTERBACK

Redshirt junior Marcus Stone posted a 5-1 record as a starter last season, helping turn the Wolfpack's fortunes around and earn a trip to a bowl game. Stone played in nine games, starting six and threw for over 1,000 yards. Pushing for time behind Stone will be redshirt sophomore Daniel Evans and freshman Justin Burke. Evans has seen just six collegiate snaps, while Burke is fresh out of high school, where he passed for over 3,700 yards last year.

HALFBACK

The halfback position is without the question the strongest and deepest on the field for the Wolfpack in 2006. Two rookie sensations return for their sophomore campaigns: Andre Brown and Toney Baker. Brown, a first-team Academic All-ACC performer led the team with 721 yards on the ground last year, posting two of the top six rushing games in the league. His 248 yards against Southern Miss was the best ever by a Wolfpack freshman and ranked as the second-highest tally in NC State history. Toney Baker led the team in rushing seven times last season, tallying 546 total yards and scoring five touchdowns. Another young player will add his talents to the position this fall, as redshirt freshman Jamelle Eugene enters the mix. Eugene had a breakout performance in spring workouts and should see plenty of action.

Jamelle Eugene

Anthony Hill

TIGHT END

The loss of T.J. Williams will be a big one for the Pack, as the bulky tight end has led the team in receiving each of the past two seasons. However, junior Anthony Hill has gained a reputation as a ferocious blocker and an able receiver, catching 15 passes a year ago. Darby will also see time at the tight end spot.

FULLBACK

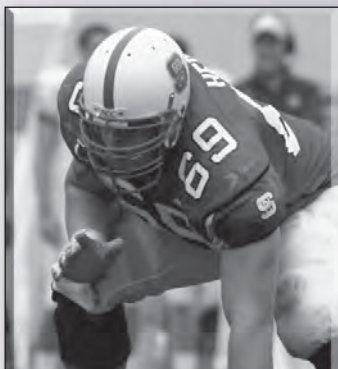

Octavius Darby is listed as the starter at the fullback spot after seeing action in 10 games last season at tight end/upback. Walkon John Kane turned heads this spring with a solid performance at that spot as well.

WIDE RECEIVER

The Wolfpack lost its top three receivers from last season - all of whom are currently on NFL rosters. Senior Lamart Barrett is the leading returner at wideout and is listed as the starter at the X position after starting seven games in 2005, pulling down 21 grabs for 248 yards. Barrett's backup at X is Geron James, who redshirted last season after undergoing shoulder surgery but showed great potential in the spring. John Dunlap is now a year removed from ACL surgery and also had a solid spring performance. He and junior Darrell Blackman, the Wolfpack's starting tailback heading into last season, will split time at the Z spot. Blackman played in every games of 2005, starting five at tailback, rushing for 216 yards and making 15 catches for 151 yards. Dunlap played in seven games and had just four catches. When the Pack goes to its "Zebra" formation, Dunlap, Barrett and Blackman will all line up.

Darrell Blackman

Kalani Heppe

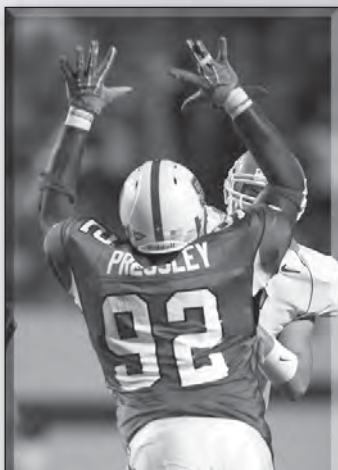

OFFENSIVE LINE

The offensive line looked to be improved during spring workouts, despite losing three starters from last year's team. Rimington Trophy candidate Leroy Harris will anchor the group from the center position after leading the team in knockdown blocks last season and in Raleigh Rails each of the past two years. Luke Lathan, Harris' backup, was in for just 18 snaps last season, but over 300 in 2004. James Newby will be back at the left tackle position, where he started a dozen games a year ago. Redshirt freshman Julian Williams, who is slimmed down and toned after sitting out last season following knee surgery, and senior Merci Falaise will see time behind Newby. At the other tackle slot, Jon Holt is listed as the starter. Holt has played in 17 games for his career, starting just one. His backup is another redshirt freshman, Jerrail McCuller. Kalani Heppe has been hampered by injury for much of his career, but enters the 2006 campaign listed as the starter at left guard. He was able to go in just seven games last year after suffering a shoulder injury, but started five of those contests. Sophomore Curtis Crouch will man the other guard slot after showing continuous improvement over the course of his rookie campaign.

WOLFPACK DEFENSE/SPECIAL TEAMS

Demario Pressley

DEFENSIVE LINE

The good news is that three members of the 2005 defensive line were chosen in the first round of the NFL draft. The bad news is that unit is now in an extreme rebuilding mode. The tackle spots will be ably manned by returning starters DeMario Pressley and Tank Tyler, but their backups, Ted Larsen and John Bedics have little experience. Redshirt freshman Willie Young and redshirt junior Littleton Wright are listed as the starters at end heading into fall camps, but neither have played a snap for the Wolfpack. Martrel Brown had a solid spring, moving from tackle to end midway through, where he showed great potential. John Amanchukwu, another former tackle, is listed as the backup at the other end spot, while Ray Brooks hopes to be back in action this fall.

DEFENSIVE BACK

The secondary also lost a starter to the NFL, but returns three from last season, making it the most experience spot on the defense. A.J. Davis will return for his second year as the starter at left corner, where he had two huge interceptions in last year's win at Florida State. Levin Neal, who saw action mostly on special teams last year, and Jeremy Gray, who was hampered by injury, will serve as the backups there. Jimmie Sutton III started a pair of games last season and will enter fall camp as the starter at right corner. Phillip Holloman, another player with mainly special teams experience,

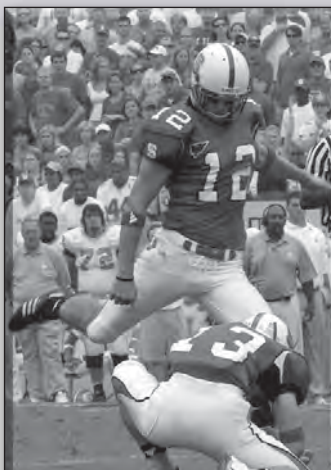

LINEBACKER

Two of the starting linebackers from last year's squad are also now in the NFL, leaving some big shoes to fill. LeRue Rumph started nine games on the strong side last season and will battle with former end James Martin II for that spot in 2006. Pat Lowery has great experience on special teams, but hopes to be a permanent starter in the middle for his senior campaign. Martin will also see time at that spot, as will redshirt freshman Avery Vogt. Former tailback Reggie Davis moved over to defense for the last week of spring practice, but showed an immediate grasp of the weakside linebacker position. He enters fall camp listed as the starter there, with redshirt freshman Ray Michel right on his trail.

LeRue Rumph

will battle for time there as well. Garland Heath had five key interceptions in his first season as a starter at roverback, ranking fourth in the ACC in that category. The Wolfpack's "hidden linebacker," Heath is the top returning tackler on the squad (84). Athletic DaJuan Morgan gained a wealth of experience last season, mainly on special teams, and will also play at rover. Miguel Scott returns for his second campaign as the starting free safety, as he started 10 games last season. J.C. Neal, another young player who spent his rookie season mainly on special teams, will back him up.

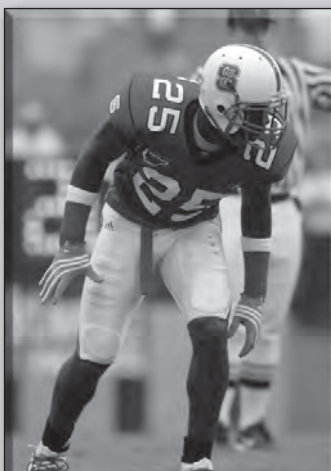

John Deraney

SPECIAL TEAMS

John Deraney has been an unparalleled force for the Wolfpack for the past three years - handling all of the team's kicking duties for the last two. His name is already etched throughout the NC State record books as both a punter and placekicker and he should be a candidate for national awards in 2006. William Lee will be back to handle the long snapping duties after graduating with a 4.0 this spring. Backup quarterback Daniel Evans will be the holder.

Darrell Blackman led the ACC and ranked sixth nationally in kickoff returns last season with a 29.1 yard average, the fifth-best mark in Wolfpack single-season history. The previous year, he led the league in punt returns and could handle both, along with halfback Andre Brown, this season.

Three defensive linemen from Chuck Amato's 2005 defensive line were first-round NFL draft picks: (L to R) John McCargo, Manny Lawson and Mario Williams.

FIRST ROUNDERS

The Atlantic Coast Conference set an NCAA record in 2006, with a dozen players selected in the first round of the NFL draft. One quarter of that total came from NC State, as the Wolfpack had three first-rounders in April: DE Mario Williams, DE Manny Lawson and DT John McCargo.

Six NC State players were drafted, the highest tally ever for the Wolfpack. Stephen Tulloch went in the fourth round, while Marcus Hudson and T.J. Williams were sixth-round picks.

SWITCHING SIDES

Rising senior Reggie Davis has been a key player at running back for the Wolfpack each of the past three years. As a true freshman in 2003, Davis unselfishly gave up a redshirt midway through the season when injuries had decimated the tailback unit, coming in and rushing for 84 yards in a seven-point win over Duke.

With just one week left in 2006 spring drills, Davis, who had seen less time last season with the emergence of other young backs, decided to try his hand at linebacker - a position that lacks depth for 2006.

The result? After just one week at weakside linebacker, Davis emerged from spring drills listed as the starter heading into fall camp. Head coach Chuck Amato called Davis 'a natural' at the position.

GETTING IT DOWN PAT

Junior placekicker/punter John Deraney has handled all of the team's kicking duties each of the past two years, and has done a solid job on punts (40.9 average), kickoffs (25 of 51 have been touchbacks) and field goals (he's made 28 in the past two years).

But despite his fine performance in those categories, the area where Deraney has achieved perfection is on PATs. He has made all 62 of his extra point attempts at NC State to set a school record for consecutive PATs made. That tally also ranks eighth in school history.

Deraney has not missed a point-after since his junior season of high school. He's not sure how many he made at the end of that campaign, but he hit all 21 as a senior at Fayette County High School and how has hit 62 straight for the Wolfpack.

PERFECT-LEE

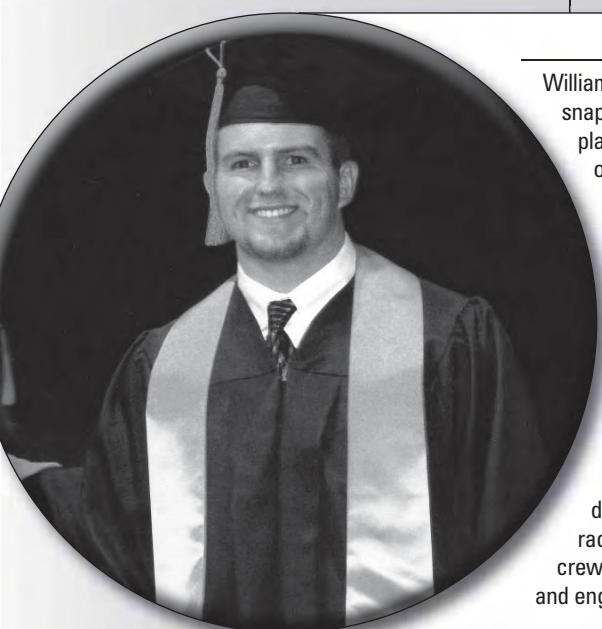

William Lee has been close to perfect in his long snapping duties for the past two seasons, helping placekicker John Deraney connect on every one of his PAT attempts.

But Lee's perfect play has not just come on the gridiron. The Fuquay-Varina native graduated in May with a perfect 4.0 grade point average and is currently enrolled in graduate school. Lee was enrolled in one of the school's toughest majors, as he earned his degree in mechanical engineering.

Although Lee is focused on football for 2006, he would like to one day take his degree and use it in another sport: auto racing. He plans to start off working for a pit crew, and then one day working on the design and engineering of the actual cars.

BY THE NUMBERS

- 0 Points scored by South Florida against the Wolfpack in the 2005 Meineke Car Care Bowl. It was the first bowl shutout ever by NC State and the only one in the nation last year.
- 1 Mario Williams' draft position in the 2006 NFL draft. Also the number of times an ACC player has ever been drafted that high.
- 1 Number of completions by Marcus Stone in the first half of four of his six starts last season. All four ended up being Wolfpack victories.
- 2 Number of ACC road victories roverback Garland Heath sealed with interceptions last season. (Georgia Tech and Florida State).
- 3 Number of Wolfpack players drafted in the first round in April.
- 4 Number of married players on the 2006 Wolfpack squad (Leroy Harris, Luke Lathan, James Newby, Miguel Scott).
- 4 Number of practices that Reggie Davis worked at weakside linebacker this spring. He is listed as the starter at that position heading into fall camp.
- 4.0 GPA of long snapper William Lee when he graduated in May with a degree in mechanical engineering.
- 5 Number of bowls NC State has participated in during Chuck Amato's six-year tenure.
- 6 Total number of Wolfpack players taken in the 2006 NFL draft.
- 8 Number of Division I schools that sent their football teams to a bowl game and their men's and women's basketball teams to the NCAA Tournament in 2005-06. NC State and Boston College were the only ACC schools to do so.
- 40 Number of years the Wolfpack has played in Carter-Finley Stadium.
- 53 Percentage of NC State's all-purpose yardage in 2005 that was accounted for by the trio of Toney Baker, Andre Brown and Darrell Blackman.
- 62 Number of consecutive PATs senior John Deraney has made at NC State - a school record.
- 90 Number in millions of the dollars spent to renovate Carter-Finley Stadium since Chuck Amato's arrival in 2000.
- 127 Number of consecutive games in which the Wolfpack has scored - the fourth-longest streak in ACC history.
- 262 Combined years of coaching experience for the 2006 NC State staff.
- 103,254 Size in square feet of the Murphy Football Center.

THE KILLER B'S

Last season, tailbacks Andre Brown, Toney Baker and Darrell Blackman (pictured L to R) combined for 2,676 all-purpose yards, a number that accounted for a whopping 53 percent of the team's total.

That talented trio accounted for 95 percent of the Wolfpack's rushing yards (1,416 of 1,493) and 93 percent of the team's kickoff return yardage (805 of 864).

This season, that number could go up, as Blackman has moved to wide receiver.

PACK PITCHES SHUTOUT

For the first time in 23 bowl trips, NC State pitched a shutout in the 2005 Meineke Car Care Bowl, winning 14-0 over South Florida. It was the only shutout in a bowl game last season.

NC State posts an 12-10-1 all-time record in bowl games, and has won five of its last six bowl appearances. Chuck Amato has led five of his six Wolfpack squads to a bowl, giving him the second-highest number of bowl appearances ever by a Wolfpack head coach (Dick Sheridan went to bowls six of his seven years with the program).

In 2000 at the micronpc.com Bowl, NC State came back from 24 points down to earn a 38-30 victory over Minnesota. In 2001, the Pack fell to Pittsburgh, 19-24, in Orlando's Tangerine Bowl.

The Pack finished the 2002 season with the best win total in school history (11-3) and a 28-6 win over Notre Dame in the Gator Bowl. NC State went back to Orlando for the Tangerine Bowl in 2003, defeating Kansas, 56-26.

Amato has coached in 29 bowl games during his career: five as a head coach at NC State, 18 as an assistant coach at Florida State and six as an assistant coach at NC State. As a player, he competed for the Pack in the 1967 Liberty Bowl, helping NC State defeat the Georgia Bulldogs, 14-7.

In his career as a player and coach, Amato posts a 25-4-2 record in bowl games.

WINNING IS A RUSH

One thing that all seven of the Wolfpack's victories have in common in 2005 was the squad's ability to rush the football. NC State has averaged 162.4 rushing yards in its seven victories, just 71.2 in its five losses.

With tailbacks Andre Brown and Toney Baker returning, along with talented redshirt freshman Jamelle Eugene and a revamped offensive line, NC State hopes to add to those numbers in 2006.

THE TEAM'S THEMES

Each season, the coaching staff comes up with a team motto that is announced at the beginning of fall camp. The following are the mottos for Chuck Amato's first five seasons:

2000	FINISH
2001	FULL SPEED AHEAD
2002	STEP UP
2003	CUT IT LOOSE
2004	DISCIPLINE
2005	TRUST

DEJA BROWN

Freshman tailbacks named Brown who make their marks in the Wolfpack record books are nothing new at NC State. In fact, last season marked the 30th anniversary of the debut of Ted Brown, who went on to become the all-time leading rusher in ACC history with 4,602 yards.

Ted Brown played on the freshman team in the first four games of the 1975 season, then joined the varsity as the starter in the fifth game against Indiana. In that contest, he gained 121 yards on 17 carries and rushed for two touchdowns. Against Clemson that season, he set a freshman record with 227 rushing yards.

THE STONE AGE

A major factor behind the Wolfpack's success in the latter part of the 2005 season was the emergence of quarterback Marcus Stone. Stone became just the fourth QB to start a game for the Wolfpack in 111 contests when he got the nod against Southern Miss on October 29, 2005 (since the 1996 season). He ended starting the last six outings of the year, posting a 5-1 record that included a bowl victory.

Not only was Stone strong in the second half of the season, but he was also a lot stronger in the second half of games. As a starter, Stone completed 30% of his first half throws. In the second half, that number went up to 59%.

Here's a look at Stone's numbers in the first half versus the second half of the last five games:

THE NATION'S BEST FACILITIES

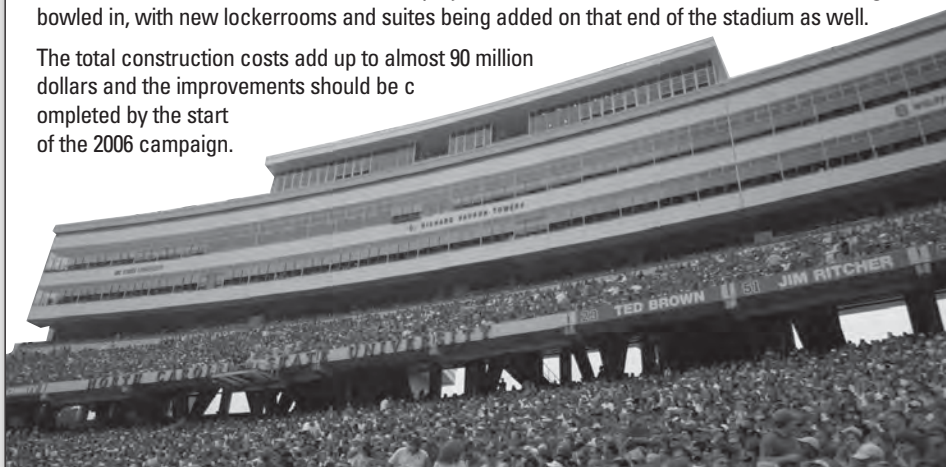

NC State's commitment to its football program is apparent when looking at the facilities that the Wolfpack has built since Chuck Amato was named head coach in 2000.

The first improvement was the addition of the $2 million scoreboard and 1,900 premium seats in the south endzone. Soon after that, the 103,254-square-foot Murphy Football Center arose in that same endzone, along with new practice fields just a stone's throw away.

Last season, the 117,000-square-foot Vaughn Towers opened, providing the Wolfpack with facilities for television, radio, print media, game operations and security, as well as providing unparalleled seating for the fans. The four-level facility boasts 51 luxury suites and 955 club seats.

The week after the 2005 season ended, crews began the demolition of the old Finley Fieldhouse en route to the Pack's newest construction project: the North endzone. That endzone is being bowled in, with new lockerrooms and suites being added on that end of the stadium as well.

The total construction costs add up to almost 90 million dollars and the improvements should be completed by the start of the 2006 campaign.

Each season, Carter-Finley Stadium boasts a beautiful new addition. Last year, it was Vaughn Towers (pictured here). For 2006, it will be the newly completed North Endzone.

Three decades later, Andre Brown broke out in his sixth game of action, but had only played 28 snaps from scrimmage until that point. He broke Brown's freshman record with 248 yards and was just four yards shy of breaking Brown's single-game Wolfpack record that he set during his junior campaign.

Andre did much better than Ted in his first career start, gaining 179 yards on 26 carries and scoring a touchdown versus Florida State.

CUTTING IT CLOSE

Chuck Amato has now coached in 48 ACC contests since taking over the Wolfpack program in 2000, posting a 23-25 record in those contests. In 26 of those 48 games, the final outcome has been decided by a touchdown (seven points) or less, 30 have been decided by eight points or less and 34 have been decided by 10 points or less.

Under Amato, NC State has lost by 20-or-more points just three times and by more than 10 points just seven times in ACC games.

Here's a look at the close games in ACC play under Amato:

Margin	Losses	Wins	Total
7 or less	14	12	26
10 or less	20	14	34
20+	3	2	5

THE CARDIAC PACK

The 1983 NC State men's basketball team that shocked the nation by winning the national championship won four of its six NCAA Tournament games by two points or less, earning the moniker "The Cardiac Pack."

Chuck Amato's Wolfpack teams have also been referred to as "The Cardiac Pack." In Amato's 74 games as head coach at his alma mater, his squads have entered the fourth quarter with the score differing by seven points or less 36 times.

NC State has come from behind to gain victory in 20 of its 46 wins under Amato and has either trailed or been tied in the fourth quarter in 11 of those wins. Under Amato, NC State has taken seven games into overtime and in 22 of the squad's 28 losses, had a chance to win (within eight points) late in the game.

BROWN BREAKS OUT

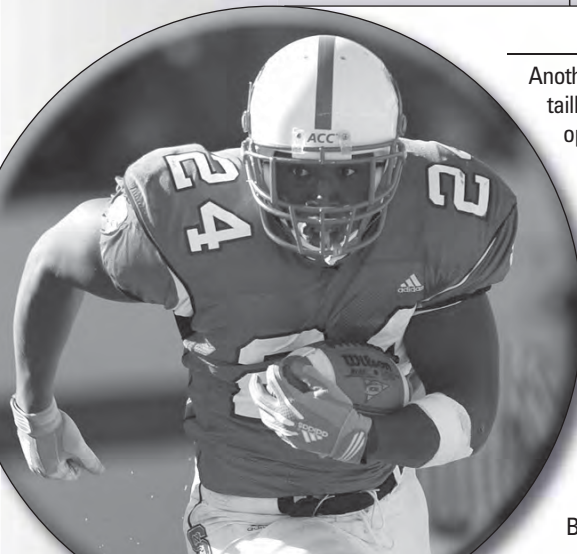

Another huge key to the Wolfpack's second-half turnaround in 2005 was the explosion of true freshman tailback Andre Brown onto the scene. The bruising 6-0, 232 pound rookie did not play in the season opener, then played sparingly in the five games - seeing action in just 28 snaps and gaining just 42 yards.

On Oct. 29 against Southern Miss, Brown was the fourth tailback to see action. The rest, as they say, is history. On his first carry, early in the second quarter, he exploded for a 41-yard run.

He would end up with 248 yards rushing for the day - the second-highest single-game total in school history and the best ever by a Wolfpack freshman. His 279 all-purpose yards in that contest was the highest tally ever posted in Carter-Finley Stadium. He was named ACC Rookie of the Week and was named the starting tailback for the game against ninth-ranked Florida State in Tallahassee the next week.

Brown's performance against the Seminoles was just as impressive. On his first carry, he ran for a 65-yard touchdown. He ended up with 179 yards and was named the Walter Camp IA National Offensive Player of the Week, the ACC Rookie of the Week and the ACC Offensive Back of the Week.

Brown finished the season ranked eighth in the ACC and leading the Pack with 721 yards rushing.

Tailback Andre Brown exploded against Southern Miss, running for the 248 yards and posting the highest all-purpose yardage total in the history of Carter-Finley Stadium.

In Amato's 74 games:

Record	46-28
4th quarter score diff. < 7	36
Come from behind wins	20
Overtime	7

Garland Heath came up with the ball five times last season on pickoffs.

HEATH IS A THIEF

Roverback Garland Heath helped earn two of the Wolfpack's ACC victories last season with interceptions. He was named ACC Defensive Back of the Week after sealing the Pack's win at Georgia Tech with a pick in the endzone. At Florida State, he picked off a pass with nine seconds left and ran it back 40 yards.

Heath, who is nicknamed "Muck City," pulled down five INTs for the season and ended up ranking fourth in the ACC in pickoffs. He also ranked seventh in passes defended, breaking up six additional throws.

Heath, who was named an honorable mention all-conference performer, did not have an interception as a sophomore, but now has six for his career.

Chuck Amato has pointed the Wolfpack to 46 victories in his first six years with the program, the fourth-best mark in ACC history for a coach in his first six years.

AMATO RANKS AMONG ACC LEADERS

After six years as the head coach of the Wolfpack, Chuck Amato has posted a 46-28 record. Those 46 wins rank fourth in ACC history for a coach in career wins after their sixth year.

Amato is tied for fourth among all-time ACC coaches in wins after three years (25), tied for third after four years (34), and is sixth after five years (39).

Here's a look at the ACC victory records for coaches after their first six years:

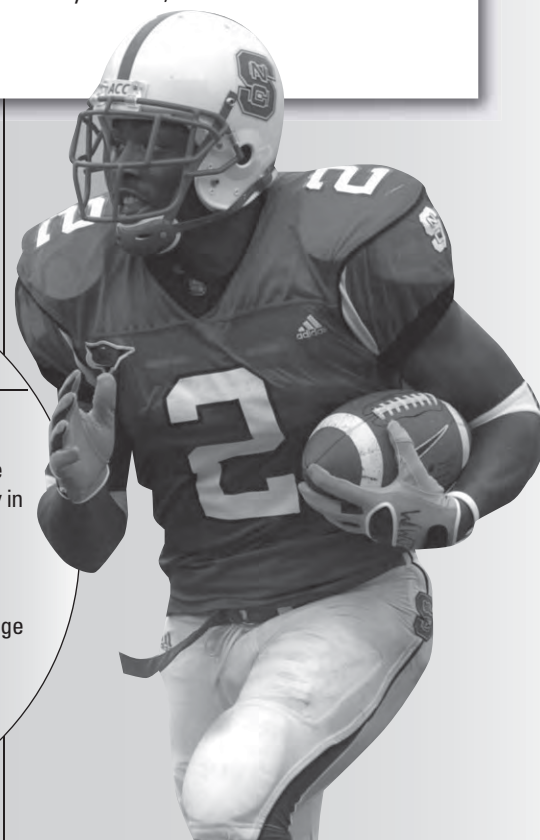

Coach, School	1st 6 Years	Record
Danny Ford, Clemson	79-84	51-15-2
Jerry Claiborne, Maryland	72-77	49-20-2
Dick Crum, UNC	78-82	48-20-1
Chuck Amato, NC State	00-05	46-28-0
George O'Leary, Ga. Tech	95-00	45-28-0
Tommy Bowden, Clemson	99-04	44-29-0

BLACKMAN ON THE RETURN

Darrell Blackman tallied 582 yards in kickoff returns last season, the fifth-highest single-season tally in school history and the best since 1987. He led the ACC and ranked sixth nationally in that category, averaging 29.1 yards per return.

Blackman, who was named a second-team all-conference performer as a specialist, is the Wolfpack's career leader in kickoff return average at 28.3 and ranks eighth in punt returns at 10.2.

The junior moved from tailback to wide receiver during spring drills, but will continue to return kicks for the Wolfpack.

Head Coach Chuck Amato

When Chuck Amato came home to his alma mater in January, 2000, he brought together two of the most important things in his life: his family and his school.

Family has always been the most important thing to the Wolfpack head coach, something you can see in his devotion to his wife, his twin daughters and his grandson. But that devotion also extends to his Wolfpack family, of which he has been a part for more than four decades.

His tie to NC State started with a family reunion of sorts: Amato followed his older brother, Rosario, from Easton, Pa., to play football for Earle Edwards. It developed as Amato helped the Wolfpack win ACC championships in two sports. It stayed with him as he worked to become one of the most respected assistant coaches in the country during his time at NC State, Arizona and Florida State.

In his years away from the school, Amato remained close to many friends and colleagues at NC State. And, despite the success of aiding in two national championships and numerous ACC titles, Amato's dream remained consistent: to return to the institution he loved.

So his devotion continues today as he works to make NC State football the best it has ever been. He's done that by bringing in talented players and accomplished assistants, and by spear-heading the drive for massive improvements at Carter-Finley Stadium.

Since he first returned, the Wolfpack family has rallied behind him in record numbers. Season ticket sales have risen each of the last six years.

Wolfpackers have also lent their support for new construction projects throughout the athletic department. Some of the most impressive undertakings have been the Murphy Football Center and the new press box and luxury suites, Vaughn Towers, as well as the new north endzone which will be open for the 2006 season.

Amato, 59, enjoys every aspect of being the head football coach at NC State University - developing strategy, competing fiercely, building relationships with young men, meeting with NC State alumni and fans - it's all part of what makes Chuck Amato so passionate about the job he waited almost three decades for.

In six seasons back in Raleigh, Amato has led the Wolfpack to unprecedented successes. He coached the first 11-win season in school history, and is only the fourth coach in ACC history to take his first four teams to bowl games and has now earned five bowl bids in six years. The 2002 Wolfpack finished the season with NC State's highest national ranking in a decade and his recruiting classes have gotten stronger and stronger each season.

Amato was named head coach of the Wolfpack on January 6, 2000, and his passion for his job was evident immediately. At the press conference announcing his hiring, in front of hundreds of members of the Wolfpack family who came out to greet him, he shed tears of joy and remembrance as he recalled some of the people, like Edwards, who meant so much to him at NC State. He donned the red and white just two days after watching his Florida State team win a national championship, but immediately turned his sights on building the same type of championship attitude for the Wolfpack.

His first step towards building a championship program was to bring in a coaching staff with more than two centuries of combined collegiate coaching experience. He and his staff then set their sights on getting the team in shape. In the spring of 2000 Amato demanded that his players hit the field leaner and meaner, and the Wolfpack players responded by collectively losing more than 700 pounds. Now, after five years, that winning attitude is as ingrained in the players as Amato's love for his alma mater.

Before his first season began, Amato had shirts made for his team that had a single word emblazoned across the front: "FINISH." His team learned the importance of that simple word, and the Pack took three games into overtime and played eight games that were decided by eight points or less. His squad finished the season accomplishing something that few had predicted before the season began: a postseason bowl bid. Amato and company weren't satisfied just with a trip to the bowl; they wanted to win. Even though a victory didn't look likely when the score stood at 24-0 in Minnesota's favor late in the first half of the Micronpc.com Bowl, the Pack did what it had done all year, FINISHing with a 38-30 win.

In addition to compiling an 8-4 record, the 2000 Wolfpack squad posted numbers that rank among the school's all-time top 10 in 13 single-season team categories. Amato's first team set school records for pass completions (242), pass attempts (455) and fewest turnovers (20) in a season. NC State's 3,218 passing yards in 2000 was the second-best mark in the 109 seasons of Wolfpack football. In addition, linebacker Levar Fisher and wide receiver Koren Robinson earned All-America notice. Fisher also was voted the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year, while Robinson was the first-round draft pick (ninth pick overall) the following spring of the NFL's Seattle Seahawks. Quarterback Philip Rivers was named the conference's Rookie of the Year.

In 2001, the Amato had a new motto for his team: "FULL SPEED AHEAD." In his second season at the helm, the Pack won seven regular-season games, including a historic 34-28 victory over Florida State in Tallahassee, the Seminoles' first-ever ACC loss at home. The 2001 Wolfpack broke the 2000 team's record for pass completions with 248, and did so in 70 fewer attempts. Not surprisingly, the Pack also shattered the school mark for completion percentage at 64.4 percent, easily eclipsing the 1992 team's mark of 61.4 percent.

In addition, the Pack committed just 13 turnovers in 11 regular-season games, bettering the 2000 team's record by seven. Defensively, the 2001 Wolfpack allowed nearly 200 fewer total yards than the '01 team, including 539 fewer yards on the ground. The Wolfpack got stronger as the season progressed, winning four of its last five regular-season games and scoring nearly 32 points per game in those five contests.

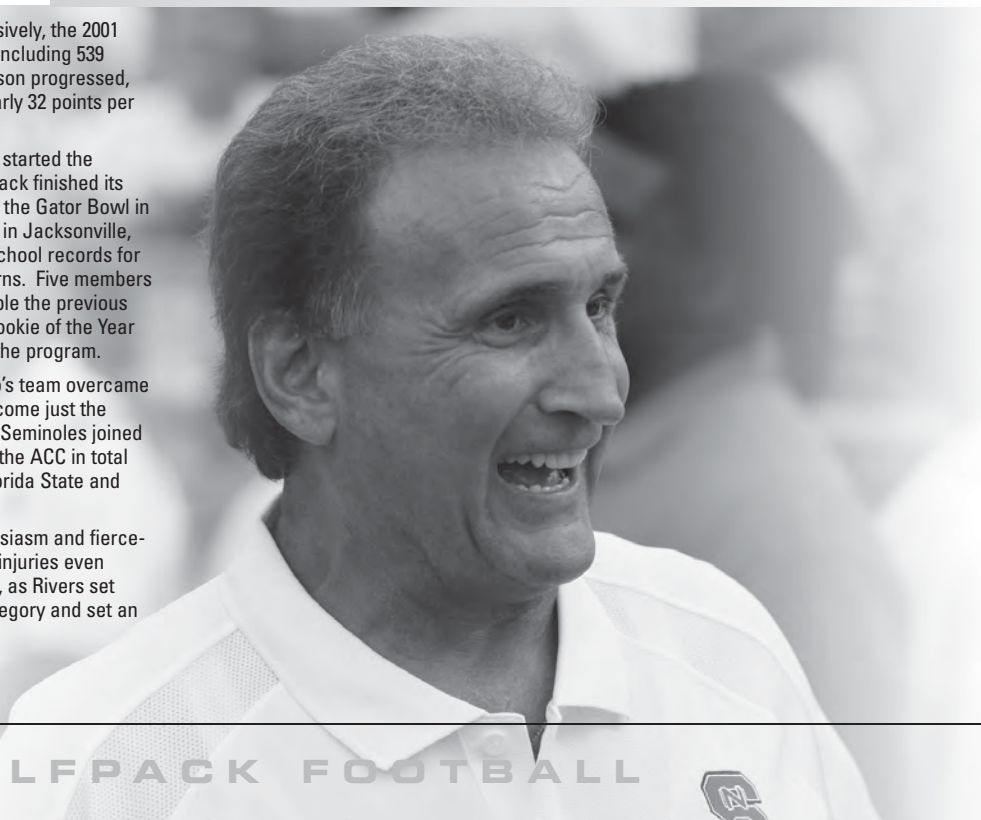

In 2002, the Pack reached unprecedented heights. The Wolfpack started the season 9-0 and was ranked as high as No. 8 in the country. The Pack finished its season strong with a nationally-televised win over Notre Dame in the Gator Bowl in front of a sea of red fans that filled three-fourths of Alltel Stadium in Jacksonville, Fla. In addition to posting a school-record 11 wins, the Pack set school records for pass completions, first downs, total yards, points and kickoff returns. Five members of his 2002 squad won first-team All-ACC honors - more than double the previous two years' combined total - and the Wolfpack boasted the ACC Rookie of the Year (T.A. McLendon) for the second time in Amato's three years with the program.

The team's motto, "STEP UP," certainly was taken to heart. Amato's team overcame injuries and bounced back from a three-game losing streak to become just the first team in the ACC to defeat Florida State three times since the Seminoles joined the league in 1991. The Wolfpack's defense, which ranked first in the ACC in total defense, did not allow an offensive touchdown in wins against Florida State and Notre Dame to finish the season.

For 2003, Amato and his staff urged their squad to play with enthusiasm and fierceness with the new motto: "CUT IT LOOSE." Although hit hard by injuries even before the season began, the Wolfpack made ACC history in 2003, as Rivers set conference records in almost every passing and total offense category and set an

WOLFPACK COACHING STAFF

Selena and Sterling Moon with Chuck, Peggy and LuGina Amato.

NCAA Division I mark for starts by a quarterback (51). The team set school records for total offense, first downs, passing attempts, completions and yards, completion percentage, and touchdowns and points scored. Rivers was named the ACC Player of the Year, joining teammates Jerricho Cotchery, Sean Locklear and Andre Maddox on the all-conference first team. In April, Rivers became NC State's highest NFL draft pick in more than 40 years.

In 2004, the Wolfpack did not have a winning season for the first time in Amato's tenure, finishing with a 5-6 record while facing one of the most demanding schedules in school history. But NC State's motto of DISCIPLINE helped lead the Wolfpack defense to a No. 1 national ranking in total defense, holding opponents to 221.4 yards per game, the lowest total since the ACC was formed.

Despite all of the success he's earned during his decades in coaching, Amato says that he has never felt as much satisfaction as he does about his 2005 team. After starting the season 2-4, the Wolfpack followed the team's motto of TRUST and turned it around, winning five of its last six games, including an impressive 14-0 defeat of South Florida at the Meineke Car Care Bowl. The Pack's win marked the first shutout performance of any school in a bowl game since 2003. At the NFL Draft in April, Mario Williams was selected first overall by the Houston Texans, while two other teammates joined him in the first round, as Manny Lawson went to the San Francisco 49ers and John McCargo was picked up by the New York Giants. Williams became the first-ever ACC player to go No. 1 in the draft.

Amato, a native of Easton, Pa., first came to Raleigh as an underweight linebacker. He was a three-year letter winner in football and wrestling for the Wolfpack. On the gridiron, he played on the 1965 team that won an ACC co-championship and was the captain of the famed 1967 "White Shoes defense." On the mats, he posted two undefeated seasons, earning an ACC heavy weight title in 1966 and another in the 191 weight class in 1968.

He earned his B.S. in mathematics education from NC State in 1969 and his master's degree in education in 1973.

Following his graduation, Amato spent two years as an assistant coach at his prep alma mater, Easton Area High School. In 1971, he began a nine-year stint as an assistant with the Wolfpack, working under Al Michaels, Lou Holtz and Bo Rein. He served as a graduate assistant in 1971 and 1972, coached the defensive secondary from 1973-75, and was the defensive coordinator and linebacker coach from 1976-79. He coached four All-ACC defensive backs for the Wolfpack during that stretch and also coached current Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Bill Cowher.

Amato came home to NC State as the 32nd head coach in program history after spending 18 years at Florida State, 14 as assistant head coach. He directed the Seminole defensive line for 14 years and spent four seasons running the linebacking corps. He has been a part of 11 ACC championships, one as a player at NC State (1965), two as an assistant coach for the Wolfpack (1973, 1979), and eight consecutive at Florida State (1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999).

FSU was ranked in the top four of the final Associated Press poll each of Amato's last 13 years with the program, and the Seminole defense ranked in the top 10 nationally in rushing defense seven of his last eight years. The Seminoles ranked in the top 20 in all four defensive categories (total defense, rushing defense, passing efficiency defense and scoring defense) in 1999.

Amato coached three consensus All-Americans at FSU: defensive end Reinard Wilson, linebacker Sam Cowart and defensive end Andre Wadsworth. After he took over the direction of the linebacking corps in 1996, he directed one two-time Butkus Award semifinalist (Daryl Bush), and four NFL draft picks. He also produced some of the nation's top defensive linemen while leading that unit.

Prior to joining the Florida State staff, Amato spent two seasons at the University of Arizona (1980-81), where he served as linebackers coach.

Amato's devotion to NC State can only be topped by his devotion to his family. He's been married to his wife, Peggy, a native of Raleigh, for 30 years. The couple has twin daughters, LuGina and Selena, both graduates of Florida State. LuGina lives in Raleigh, while Selena, who is married to former Florida State football player Jarad Moon, lives in Florida. Amato's first grandson, Sterling Moon, joined the family in May 2004.

CAROLYN STUART Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach

Carolyn Stuart boasts the longest tenure of any member of the Wolfpack football staff. Stuart has been with the Pack for 30 years, through 351 football games and over a dozen bowl appearances. Chuck Amato is the sixth head coach she has worked with.

In addition to serving as the administrative secretary for Amato, Stuart's responsibilities include helping develop and monitor the football budget, handling team and recruiting travel, helping coordinate bowl trips, and a myriad of other day-to-day responsibilities.

A native of Benson, N.C., Stuart worked in the school of agriculture and life sciences before joining the football office in 1976. She and her husband, Jimmy, have one son, Darren. Darren and his wife Joan have a daughter, Ashton (9), and a son, Adam (6).

JAMEY COLL Senior Associate Director of Sports Medicine/Head Football Athletic Trainer

Jamey Coll is entering his 14th year as a member of the Wolfpack Athletic Training Staff and has served as the head athletic trainer for football since 1996. During his tenure at NC State, Coll has also worked as the assistant athletic trainer for football, has worked in the Reynolds Athletic Training Room as the rehabilitation coordinator and at NC State Student Health Services as an athletic trainer. At the Student Health Center, Coll collaborated with a physical therapist to come up with treatment plans and rehabilitation protocols for patient care.

Coll came to NC State after serving as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at the University of Connecticut for two years, working as the assistant athletic trainer for football and the athletic trainer for ice hockey. In addition, he served as the athletic trainer for the Windham Orthopedic Surgical Group, working with physical therapists and orthopedic surgeons.

A native of Wrentham, Mass., Coll earned his athletic training degree from Salem State College in 1991 and went on to Connecticut, where he received his Master of Arts in exercise science in 1993.

Coll is certified with the National Athletic Trainers Association as an athletic trainer and is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Coll is married to the former Leah Havens Wallace of Raleigh, and has a daughter, Sydney Patricia (2).

EDDIE GARDNER Head Football Equipment Manager

Eddie Gardner boasts one of the longest tenures in the entire Wolfpack football program, as he has been involved in some capacity since the late 1970s.

Gardner began working with the football team as a student trainer while pursuing an associate's degree in science at NC State. After graduating in 1980 with an associate's degree in science, he continued to work within the football program, assisting with equipment duties. Serving as the Assistant Equipment Manager from 1982-85, he was promoted to Head Equipment Manager in 1986 at the beginning of the Dick Sheridan era. While Gardner has served in his current role as equipment manager under the past three head coaches, he has worked for every coach since Bo Rein.

Gardner oversees the order and maintenance of all practice and game-day equipment and gear for the entire football program, including staff, coaches, student assistants and student athletes. In addition, he is responsible for travel plans for equipment and student assistants, as well as loading and preparing the equipment truck. Gardner is also in charge of setting up all fields and drills for practice and game day activities.

A native of Roseboro, N.C., Gardner is married to the former Betty Lucas.

CHAD JAMISON Director of High School Relations

Chad Jamison rejoined the Wolfpack football program in the spring of 2005 as the Director of High School Relations. Jamison came back to NC State after spending the 2004 season as a graduate assistant at East Carolina. Jamison will work closely with recruiting and the Pack's high school prospects.

In Jamison's first stint with NC State, he served as the offensive graduate assistant for three seasons (2001-03) and was a recruiting intern for a year (2000). Jamison worked closely with the Wolfpack's offensive unit and assisted with game preparation and scouting.

In the spring of 1999, Jamison served as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, Indiana University of Pennsylvania. He was also an assistant coach for Central Dauphin East High School in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Prior to getting back into football, Jamison served as a labor relations analyst in the Department of Environmental Protection for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

As a player, Jamison was a two-year letterwinner for IUP as a cornerback where he was coached by Frank Cignetti, father of Wolfpack tight ends coach/recruiting coordinator Curt Cignetti.

Jamison earned his bachelor's degree in human resource management in December of 1997 from IUP and his master's degree in industrial and labor relations from the university in Indiana, Pa. Jamison grew up in Delmont, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh.

Jerry Fuqua is the interim director of strength and conditioning and in his 18th year of coaching overall. In his second year of coaching at NC State, Fuqua spent 2005 as the assistant strength and conditioning coach. He came to NC State after spending 1999-2004 as an assistant head coach for running backs and linebackers and as a strength coach at Horseshoe Bend High School in New Site, Alabama.

Fuqua spent 1993-98 as a strength coach at Auburn University, serving as the director of strength and conditioning from 1996-98 after serving as an assistant strength coach from 1993-95.

He spent two years as an assistant strength coach at Samford University (1991-92) after three seasons as a student and graduate assistant at Auburn from 1988-90.

Fuqua played one season at the University of Missouri-Rolla as a fullback. He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science in 1988 from Auburn and his master's in exercise physiology from Auburn in 1990.

Fuqua was born and raised in Sylacauga, Alabama and has two sons, Jared (13) and Jake (9).

Marlowe has served in various leadership roles for the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A), including President, Region Representative, Committee Chair. He currently serves as a faculty member of the N4A Professional Development Institute and mentors several N4A members.

He and his wife, Alison, have four children, Shay, Janay, Samuel and Lena, and a grandson Quinton J. Harris II.

KATIE SHERIDAN

Co-Academic Coordinator For Football

Katie Sheridan is entering her fourth season with the Academic Support program for Student Athletes at NC State and now serves as the co-academic coordinator for football.

While in graduate school at NC State, Sheridan previously worked one year with the football team and a year with men's basketball before accepting a full time position with the Academic Support office.

She earned her bachelor's degree from NC State in business management in 2003 and competed on the NC State swimming team, serving as team captain her senior season. Sheridan received her master's of education in counseling at NC State in 2005.

Sheridan is originally from Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

DEMETRIUS MARLOWE

Co-Academic Coordinator For Football

Demetrius Marlowe serves as the Co-Football Academic Coordinator for the Academic Support Program for Student Athletes at NC State University. He has most recently served as the Associate Athletics Director and Director of Student-Athlete Support Services at Michigan State University (MSU) and as the Assistant Director of Intramural Sports and Director of Club Sports at MSU. Before joining the Spartans he served as the Associate Athletics Director for Academic Support and Career Development at the University of Maryland, College Park.

A native of Neptune, N.J., he received a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1987 from Pfeiffer University in Misenheimer, N.C. where he was a varsity athlete and coach in the sport of soccer. In 1991, he received a master's degree in education from Bowling Green State University where he served as an assistant soccer coach. He began his professional career in the Office of Academic Support for Student-Athletes as an Academic Counselor at The University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana.

In 1994, he was hired by Syracuse University to serve as the academic coordinator for football where he assisted the program in achieving a 100% graduate rate as calculated by the College Football Association before heading to Maryland in 1997.

JIM SHERRILL

Assistant Athletics Director for Technology

The NC State Athletic Department's Assistant Athletics Director for Technology, Jim Sherrill, plays a critical role in the day-to-day operations of the football program. A 1985 graduate of NC State with a bachelor's of science in radio, television and film, Sherrill's career with the Wolfpack began in 1994, when he began working as a video coordinator in the athletic department. In July of 2003, Sherrill was promoted to the position to director of technology and into his current title in 2006.

Sporting several behind-the-scenes duties, Sherrill oversees all sports video and computer needs. In addition, Sherrill also serves as the director of "The Chuck Amato Show," "The Herb Sendek Show" and "Inside Wolfpack Athletics with Lee Fowler." Recently, he has been working with all new athletic facilities to plan for and implement all telecommunications and computer services. Sherrill oversees a staff of 17, including several fulltime, graduate and student assistants.

Sherrill and his wife Kim have one son, David, also a graduate of NC State.

When I was a kid, I wanted to be a _____ when I grew up: Fighter-pilot

Nobody knows how much I like to _____: Sit on my back porch at home and look at the stars while on the phone because there are no city lights

My role model: My dad

My most embarrassing moment was: Anthony Richardson catching an alley oop over me at basketball team camp my sophomore year in high school

My best non-football-related talent: Showing cows

In my CD player right now: Garth Brooks

My favorite childhood toy: Toy John Deere tractor

If I had to give up all my possessions but one, I'd keep: My shotgun - first one my dad gave me

If I could choose a profession outside of football, it would be...: Dairy farming or a professional hunter

The song I would sing if I were an American Idol contestant would be ...: She Thinks My Tractor's Sexy

If I could bring anything from my hometown to Raleigh, it would be: My cows

Favorite Coach Amato Quote: "Nothing good happens after 12 and if you haven't found it by 11:30, you ain't going to."

Person in history I would most like to meet: Papaw - my dad's dad because I never got to meet him

The thing that would make my mother proudest would be: To finish school and raise my family the right way

The Reality Show I'd like to go on and why: Dream season on OLN because I would get to hunt all over the country

Teammate that would be the first voted off the island and why: Wesley Wilson - Because he'd vote himself off so he could go back to Duplin County

Funniest Teammate: AJ Davis and Garland Heath

Teammate who will be the biggest surprise this year: Jamelle Eugene

Teammate most likely to be president one day: Andrew Evans

In 2005: Played with the Wolfpack scout team last season ... Has not seen action in a game for the Wolfpack ... Originally signed with North Carolina A&T before walking on at NC State.

ORRICK QUICK OFF THE FIELD

Nickname: Quick

The funniest nickname on the team is (and belongs to): Muck sauce - Garland Heath

If a movie were made about me, I'd want this actor to play me: Denzel Washington

THE WORLD'S GREATEST FANS

THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT

Although the names on the Wolfpack roster change from year to year, there's one thing about NC State football that has been consistent through the decades: the dedication of the fans in red and white. Wolfpack fans have gained a reputation of being some of the most loyal and most vocal in the nation, and that reputation is well deserved.

Attendance has risen steadily each of the past five years, with season tickets selling out each of those seasons. In 2004, a new record average of 55,600 fans per game saw the Wolfpack play, breaking the previous year's record.

Bowl games are almost like home games for the Wolfpack. In 2002, NC State fans bought a record number of tickets to the Toyota Gator Bowl and filled the stadium with red. Whether its the annual Red and White spring game or the annual Meet the Pack Day in August, Wolfpack fans are there in full force.

They're loud. They're loyal. They are even a little crazy. But whatever adjective you use to describe them, the Wolfpack fans play a vital role in the team's success.

"In the 20 years since I've been coaching in the NFL, NC State pro prospects have a quality reputation. You know you're going to get a player who is a solid character off the field and a good worker on the field."

In 2006, the Wolfpack's Mario Williams became the first number-one pick in ACC history.

Entering 2006 camp, more than 25 former Wolfpack players are on NFL rosters and a record six Wolfpack players were drafted in April. Three members of the 2005 NC State squad were taken in the first round, while the Wolfpack's Mario Williams became the first player in ACC history to be drafted as the number-one overall pick.

In addition to the players drafted into the National Football League, countless others have signed free agent contracts. Additionally, many former Wolfpack players have joined teams in NFL-Europe, the Canadian Football League and the Arena League. Scouts from numerous NFL teams attend every home game and are frequent visitors at Wolfpack practices.

NC State has boasted a top-10 draft pick four of the past eight years.

Three NC State players were first-round draft picks in 2006, while a school-record six players were drafted.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

PACK POWER PACK POWER PACK POWER PACK POWER PACK POWER

The Wolfpack coaching staff firmly believes that a solid strength and conditioning program is one of the cornerstones of a championship football program. Strength & Conditioning interim coach Jerry Fuqua's philosophy is to make strength and conditioning a 12-month job for the Wolfpack football team, but to make sure the players enjoy it.

The Wolfpack has the advantage of training in what could be the largest strength and conditioning facility in the country devoted solely to football. The Wolfpack trains in a 14,000+ square-foot facility that overlooks the playing field. The bright, open area spans the entire width of the Murphy Center, and includes over 15 tons of weights, plus other machines and equipment. In addition to a 70-yard running track, the facility includes 12 self-contained power stations, 12 olympic platforms and over 30 pieces of "selecterized" equipment, all resting on a spring-loaded floor.

The facility also houses a 5,000-square-foot agility and quickness room, or "Mat Room", and a juice bar to provide nourishment while the players are working out.

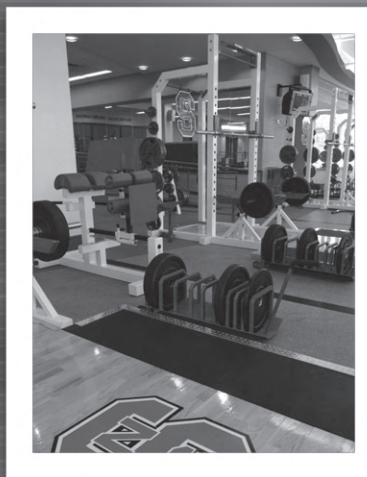

The Wolfpack staff has made strength and conditioning as much a competition as what goes on on the playing field. In August, the Pack has hosted a "Day of Champions," at the RBC Center. This competition gives the NC State players a chance to compete in strength and agility drills in front of thousands of fans.

The strength and conditioning staff also tests each of the athletes and divides them into weight classes by position: Heavyweights (linemen), Middleweights (QB's, TE's, kickers) and Skill (Wide receivers, running backs, defensive backs). Each year a combination of tests and drills determine the champions in each drill and in each class overall.

NC State University is committed to providing its student-athletes with all the tools necessary to achieve excellence on the fields of competition and in the classroom. The Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA) is evidence of this commitment.

Under the auspices of NC State's Division of Undergraduate Studies, the ASPSA complements the university's substantial faculty advising and academic resources, paying special attention to the unique demands and expectations of the Division I student-athlete.

The degree in which Wolfpack student-athletes are involved in ASPSA varies according to individual needs. Generally, all freshmen are expected to be heavily involved, as the transition from high school to university life can be a difficult one. Each freshman student-athlete attends study hall

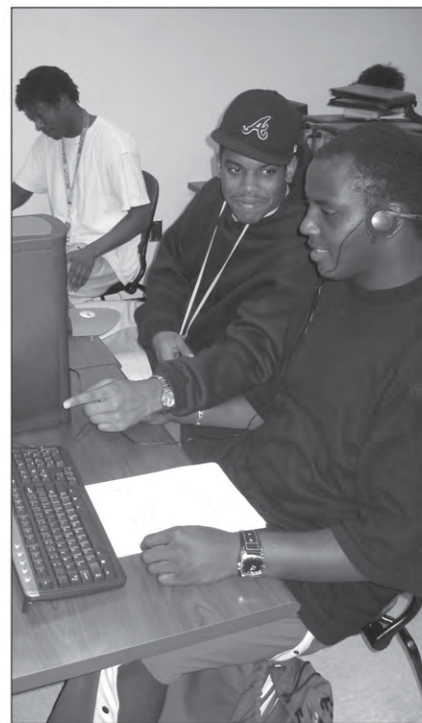

The purpose of ASPSA is to assist the student-athlete in a move toward academic independence, but the services of the organization are available upon request at any point during a student-athlete's career. Students who have proven themselves to be self-reliant are allowed more optional use of the program with only moderate oversight.

ASPSA facilities are located in the Case Athletic Center, The Murphy Center and the Weisiger Brown Building. The centers contain modern study areas and computer centers.

Phil Moses oversees the program and 12 full-time academic coordinators are on the ASPSA staff. Two full-time academic coordinators, Demetrius Marlowe and Katie Sheridan, work with the football squad and have offices in the Murphy Center.

Mr. Marlowe and Ms. Sheridan are assisted by two full-time interns who mentor assigned football student-athletes, coordinate tutorial support and supervise daily structured study sessions.

Qualified football student-athletes participate in The Preparing Academic Champions (PAC) program. PAC is staffed by learning specialists who evaluate learning competencies and develop individualized success strategies to accommodate the learning style of each student-athlete, including those with documented learning disabilities.

Wolfpack players can attend study hall at the Murphy Center or at the Case Athletic Center.

Long snapper William Lee graduated with a degree in engineering, posting a 4.0 GPA for his career. Here he is pictured with Dr. Richard Gould, head of the department of aerospace and mechanical engineering.

Head Coach Chuck Amato huddles with some of the football players who graduated in December of 2005.

FIRST-YEAR COLLEGE PROGRAM

NC State offers incoming freshmen a year of study and guidance before choosing an academic major. Over 750 students are enrolled in the first-year college program, which helps the student become involved with the academic, social and cultural life at NC State. The First-Year College includes a career development program designed to help students make an informed choice of a major.

ASPSA FACTS

- The NC State Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes has a budget of over $1 million.
- The ASPSA employs 12 full-time staff members in addition to director Phil Moses. Two academic coordinators, Demetrius Marlowe and Katie Sheridan, work with the football squad and have their offices in the Murphy Center.
- The football program has access to over 80 tutors with various specialties, who are employed by the ASPSA to ensure the commitment to individualized education.

Sean Locklear and Philip Rivers graduated in December of 2003 before being drafted in April of 2004. Locklear was a starter in the 2006 Super Bowl with the Seattle Seahawks, and Rivers will be the starting quarterback for the San Diego Chargers in 2006.

- Tutorial Services
- Academic Counseling
- Study and Computer Skills Development
- Graduation Planning
- Career Counseling
- Leadership Development
- Time Management
- Academic Information Resource
- Referral Service

SERVICES PROVIDED BY ASPSA

ORIENTATION COURSES: A training course in college survival and success meets 75 minutes each week to cover topics such as adjustment to college, time management, stress management, study skills, test-taking skills, cultural diversity, university policies and other topics.

ACADEMIC ADVISING: The ASPSA's academic coordinators complement the university's departmental advising by providing information regarding policies, procedures, course selection, selection of majors and minors, and NCAA and NC State guidelines for adequate academic progress.

COUNSELING: Individual work is done with students with specific concerns such as decision-making, adjustment to college, communications, relationships, test anxiety and study skills. Appropriate referrals are made to other campus resources as necessary.

MONITORING OF ACADEMIC PROGRESS:

The academic progress of NC State student-athletes is closely and carefully monitored. Monitoring forms are used to gather classroom performance information from professors and this information is shared with the student-athlete and the coaches.

TUTORIALS: Unlimited personal tutorial services are provided and available for each and every class. These appointments begin at the start of every semester and continue regularly through the end of final exams. Supplemental instructional programs and a departmental learning center are also available.

... AND QUALITY

The Wolfpack coaching staff brings a wealth of diversity in terms of coaching and playing styles to the Wolfpack program. NC State's coaches have worked in many Division I conferences throughout their combined tenure in college football.

The NC State coaching staff also has a combined 18 years of coaching experience in the NFL.

"The thing I remember the most about playing for Coach Amato is that he was very demanding and very knowledgeable, and yet he was a guy that you wanted to play for. He had a way of conveying the game to you that allowed you to go out there and play and not think. Today, when a player can play with that type of mindset, it really allows them to be as good as they can be.

As a coach, I have dealt with a lot of players who have played for Chuck. The one thing they have in common is that they have tremendous respect for him. He's demanding, but personable."

MEDIA SPOTLIGHT

THE EXPOSURE

THE EXPOSURE

THE EXPOSURE

THE EXPOSURE

NC State's football program and players receive national, regional and local media exposure on almost a daily basis. In order to help each student-athlete project the best possible image, annual media training is provided to the football team. Individual media training is also available to any player who is interested.

TOP MEDIA MARKET

NC State University is located in one of the top 30 media markets in the nation. Several regional newspapers have a beat writer assigned to cover Pack football, while television stations from five networks (ABC, CBS, FOX, NBC, WB) as well as a 24-hour news channel are located in the triangle.

MEDIA TRAINING

Each year, the entire team meets with nationally acclaimed media trainers to discuss interview techniques. Individual media training is also available upon request.

TELEVISION EXPOSURE

Nine of the Wolfpack's games were televised last season, including six national broadcasts to set a school record. NC State games were broadcast by ESPN, ABC, espn2, ESPN-U and JP Sports. Over the past nine seasons, 81 NC State football games have been televised.

WOLFPACK VIDEO

Weekly and yearly highlight films are just a small portion of the services offered by Video Coordinator Jim Sherrill, his assistants Hud Jordan and Mike Urban and a staff of eight camera operators. The Video department has spacious accommodations in the Murphy Center, including two non-linear editing suites for production, a breakdown area for Coaches' video needs, C/Ku band and Direct TV satellite distributions system, a Digital video, DVCAM, Betacam SP, VHS duplication center, a CD & DVD duplication system, a broadcast studio and control room, live satellite capabilities and a fiber optic link to the football practice fields.

GoPack.com

A constant and reliable source of information for NC State fans is Gopack.com, the official web site of the NC State Athletics Department. By pooling together the resources of Wolfpack Sports Marketing, the NC State Media Relations Department and the Official College Sports Network, Gopack.com has become one of the most popular school sites in the entire nation.

Not only does Gopack.com provide in-depth articles on football, it is also the only consistent Internet source for news on all of the school's varsity sports squads. Gopack.com also provides real audio broadcasts of football, men's and women's basketball, baseball and the coaches radio shows. And for those who can't listen, live in game statistics and box scores are just one keystroke away.

FACILITIES

When it comes to football facilities, there is none in the country as fine as the Wendell H. Murphy Center. The 103,254-square-foot facility houses every aspect of Wolfpack football, from sports medicine, to equipment, to strength training, to academics. As functional as it is aesthetically pleasing, the Murphy Center is definitely the Wolfpack's den.

The facility is named for Wendell H. Murphy, a lifelong supporter of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State. A member of the NC State Board of Trustees, Murphy was awarded the prestigious Watauga Medal in 1999, the school's highest award given for outstanding and distinguished service.

The 103,254-square-foot Wendell H. Murphy Football Center is the largest operations facility in the country devoted solely to football. Visitors enter the building through Gant Plaza, where the 28' "Wolfpack Turf" statue and fountain stands proudly. The center is open year round during the week from 8am-5pm for visitors, with tours available by contacting the athletic department in advance.

Wendell and Linda Murphy celebrated the official opening of the center in May of 2003 with an assortment of children and grandchildren.

Visitors to the Murphy Center can experience the rich heritage of Wolfpack Football in the Finley Hall of Champions. This multimedia complex highlights NC State's football tradition with photos, artifacts and interactive exhibits. Fans can watch video highlights in the Woolard Theater and younger Wolfpackers can have fun in the Junior Wolfpack Zone.

The third floor of the Murphy Center houses a large dining room and a players' lounge that overlooks Wayne Day Family Field. The lounge boasts couches, pool tables, ping-pong tables, wide-screen TVs and video games for the Wolfpack players to enjoy during breaks.

The Sports Medicine Facility covers 6,000 square feet and includes an aquatics area with three pools.

A large team meeting room and meeting rooms for each position are on the third floor. Each room is equipped with the latest video playback equipment for reviewing film and breaking down an athlete's performance.

In addition to a professionally-equipped studio, the Video Services area on the fourth floor also includes editing suites.

The team runs out of the tunnel below the Murphy Center on gamedays.

The Wolfpack lockerroom contains 114 custom wood lockers, bathrooms, showers, a stereo and TVs.

The Strength Training Facility runs the entire length of the building and covers 15,000 square-feet. The facility houses a mat room, a track, a juice bar and over 15 tons of weights.

FACILITIES

In its 40 years of existence, Carter-Finley Stadium has earned a reputation as one of the most exciting venues in college football, mainly due to the dedication of Wolfpack fans. Now, the facility has been renovated to match the excellence of the people who fill it and is rapidly becoming known as one of the finest football venues in the nation for both its atmosphere and its facilities.

In the past six years, the entire face of the stadium has changed dramatically. The south endzone is now the home of the 103,254 square-foot Murphy Center, which is unequalled in its design for the training and preparation of athletes. The student-athletes' academic, physical training and sports medicine needs are met under one roof, providing the ideal setting for coaching, recruiting and celebrating NC State's gridiron heritage.

The Wolfpack squad practices just a stone's throw away at the Dail Practice Complex. This area covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a tower where the head coach is frequently found surveying his squad.

In front of the Murphy Center, the south endzone now boasts 5,864 permanent seats, with the top 11 rows featuring 1,900 premium seats with chairbacks. The "Superscreen" scoreboard enhances the Carter-Finley atmosphere, as fans are able to enjoy replays, highlights and other videos on the scoreboard's 24' x 32' video screen. A state-of-the-art sound system ensures that even the folks on the last row get the most out of their game-day experience.

Last season, Vaughn Towers opened for fans and the media. Located on the west side, the four-level facility boasts 117,000 square feet and holds 51 luxury suites, 955 club seats and luxurious quarters for the media covering NC State games.

For 2006, the north endzone will be completely enclosed, with new lockerrooms, suites and seating.

ABOUT CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM/WAYNE DAY FAMILY FIELD

NAME

Named for Harry and "Nick" Carter, textile executives and NC State alumni, and the late Raleigh philanthropist A.E. Finley.

CAPACITY

57,082

ORIGINAL COST

$3.7 million. Half the funds were raised from alumni and friends, and the balance was borrowed.

ORIGINAL CONSTRUCTION

Plans for a new stadium were first drawn in the early 1960s. The land was donated by the N.C. Department of Agriculture, and ground was broken in 1964. A pond was drained and excavated to form the depression where the playing field now stands. More than 300,000 cubic yards of soil were removed during grading; 70,000 bags of cement were churned with sandstone to make 25,000 tons of concrete; and 1,350 tons of steel were used in construction.

WAYNE T. DAY FAMILY FIELD

Surface: Eleven-year old turf; 419 Tiftway Hybrid Bermuda grass, Sub-surface drainage at eight inches per hour with a two percent crown; grass is mowed year-round at 3/4 inch length. In October, the field is over-seeded with perennial rye grass to maintain its lush appearance.

WENDELL H. MURPHY FOOTBALL CENTER

Four-level, 103,000+ square-foot operations center housing all of the support services and offices for the football program.

VAUGHN TOWERS

A four-story facility that will boasts 112 working press seats, booths for radio and television broadcasts, coaching booths, and operations areas. The facility will also house 955 club seats, 51 luxury suites and a chancellor's suite.

LIGHTING

Incandescent light fixtures with 672 fixtures of 1,500 watts each. Approximately 1 million watts located on eight standards, which provide 190-200 foot candle power.

LONGEST NC STATE WINNING STREAK

16 games, spanning from 1972 until 1975.

FIRST GAME

Dedicated on October 8, 1966 in a 22-31 loss to South Carolina, in front of 35,200 spectators.

THE RED ZONE

The new north endzone, nicknamed the "Red Zone," encompasses new Lifetime Rights and student seating, but it is also home to a new and improved A.E. Finley Fieldhouse. The renovations include:

- Two state-of-the art locker rooms; one for NC State's halftime use, the other for visiting team use.
- Both team locker rooms will have the capacity to be divided into four smaller locker rooms for use in high school championship games.
- Halftime locker rooms for cheerleaders, dance team, game referees and coaches.

WAYNE DAY FAMILY FIELD

The playing field at Carter-Finley Stadium was named Wayne Day Family Field in the spring of 2003 after the Day family pledged $5 million to the Wolfpack Club Goal Line Drive Campaign. The Day family's pledge is one of the largest gifts to the athletics program in the history of NC State University.

Day, president and CEO of John J. Kirlin, Inc., is a 1965 graduate of NC State University. A native of Roxboro, Day graduated from NC State with a degree in Chemical Engineering. Before joining John J. Kirlin Inc. in 1969, he spent two years with the US Army Corps of Engineers, followed by two years at Honeywell. Day is a member of the World Presidents Association and the Washington Building Congress. He is actively involved in the rebuilding of the Pentagon, following the terrorist attack of September 11, 2001.

Day and his wife Mary Grace have two children and one grandson.

GOING BOWLING

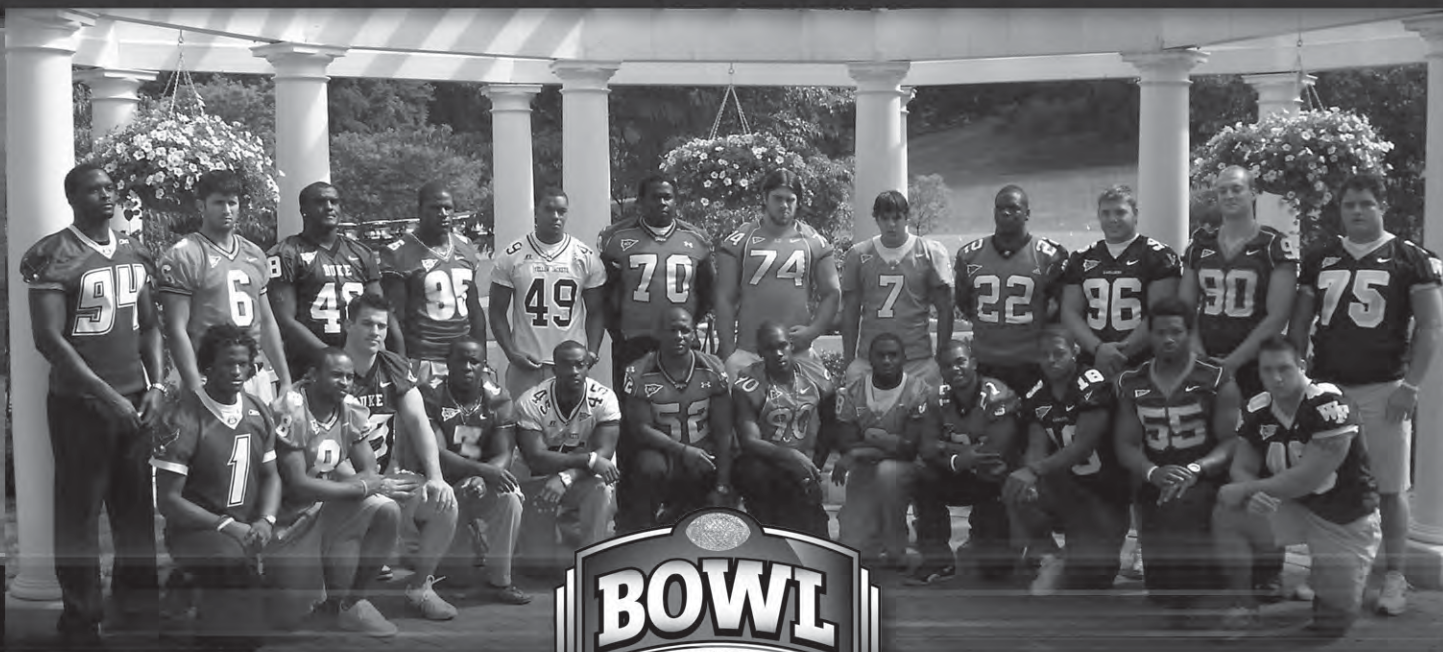

THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT THE EXCITEMENT

The holiday season has been bowl season for the Wolfpack since Chuck Amato took over the program in 2000. The NC State squad has travelled to a bowl five of the past six years and Amato is just the fourth coach in ACC history and the second in NC State history to take each of his first four teams to a postseason bowl. Last season, the Pack posted the only bowl shutout of the year with a 14-0 win over South Florida in the Meineke Car Care Bowl. In 2003, the Wolfpack defeated Kansas in the Tangerine Bowl. Following the 2002 season, State walloped Notre Dame, 28-6, in the Toyota Gator Bowl after competing in the 2001 Tangerine Bowl and the 2000 Micronpc.com Bowl, when State came from behind to defeat Minnesota.

Amato has coached in 29 bowl games during his career (five as the head coach at NC State, 18 as an assistant coach at Florida State and six as an assistant for the Wolfpack). He also competed in the Liberty Bowl as a player at NC State. In his career as a player and coach, Amato has posted a 23-4-2 record in bowl games.

THE TRADITION

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national championships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, Miami has laid claim to five national gridiron titles over the past 22 seasons. Four of the Hurricanes' five national titles (1983, 1987, 1989, 2001) were unanimous with both the sportswriters and coaches polls in agreement, while in 1991 Miami (AP) shared the national title with Washington (coaches).

This past season an all-time high 14 ACC players earned first team All-America recognition while two others garnered second team honors. The 12 institutions that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 513 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 71 first-team academic All-Americans.

Led by NC State junior Mario Williams, the first overall selection, the ACC set an NCAA record with 12 players selected in the first round of the 2006 NFL draft. Williams was the first ACC player to be the NFL's first overall selection. Seven of the top 15, and 15 of the first 37 players drafted were from the ACC and the conference led all conferences with a league-record 51 players selected over the seven rounds.

The 12 current ACC schools have had 2,093 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 204 first round selections.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 139-119-5 (.538) in post-season play.

Following its 5-3 bowl mark in 2005, the ACC is the only conference to post a .500-or-better record in post-season play in each of the past five seasons. Since 2001, the ACC is 21-12 in post-season play and has the best bowl winning percentage (.636) among all BCS conferences.

In 2002, the ACC set an NCAA record when seven of its nine teams (78%) received bowl bids.

Georgia Tech and Boston College are tied for the second-best bowl game winning percentages in Division I-A history. The Yellow Jackets are 22-12 (.636) while the Eagles are 11-6. Florida State 20-13-2 (.600) is eighth.

For the first time in ACC history, league schools surpassed the 3.8 million mark in total attendance in 2005. Over 73 home games, ACC teams drew 3,835,260 fans, breaking the existing record of 3,693,032 set in 2004.

A COMMITMENT TO SUCCESS OFF THE FIELD

IMPACT PROGRAM

ImPACK is a "Life Skills" program designed to support the total development of NC State student-athletes. The mission of ImPACK is to provide an unmatched comprehensive life skills program for student-athletes that encourages their growth in decision making, enhances their interpersonal relationships, and enables them to make meaningful contributions to their communities. The ImPACK program consists of five major components:

THE ACADEMIC COMMITMENT

The primary goal is to educate student-athletes so they not only obtain a degree, but also develop an appreciation for learning in addition to the knowledge and skills that will carry them through life. The following topics are primarily covered in the first-year orientation course taught by academic coordinators in the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA).

THE ATHLETIC COMMITMENT

NC State pledges that all student-athletes will be provided with quality facilities, equipment, coaching and support services so each student can achieve his or her maximum potential both academically and athletically. Sensitivity to the dignity of the student-athlete is vital to the success of the department.

THE CAREER DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT

The goal of this component is to explore and develop career options and to prepare student-athletes for an exciting long-term career. The goal is to aid our student-athletes in securing their first professional job in their chosen career after graduation. Services in this area include: career counseling, job fair, interviewing workshops, networking, resume writing, internships, summer employment, etc.

THE PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT

The ImPACK program focuses on the individual as a whole person, and provides a system of balanced "life learning" that addresses the needs of the individual before and after graduation.

The areas that this commitment addresses include: Social Development, Personal Health, Fundamental Values, Emotional Health, Leadership Training/Citizenship.

THE SERVICE COMMITMENT

The ImPACK program supports the philosophy that student-athletes gain "leadership through service." Through their efforts, they make a positive contribution in an extensive community outreach program as well as develop a commitment to life-long service. Student-athletes area participating in the following programs: School programs, community outreach, and P.A.C.K.

MAKING AN "IMPACT" IN THE COMMUNITY

ImPACK's outreach program places special emphasis on touching the lives of Wake County's thousands of school children. NC State student-athletes are encouraged to provide tutoring and mentoring activities for children. This program seeks to avoid one-time events such as assemblies, and focuses instead on building long-standing personal relationships between the children and the student-athletes. Visits are also made to children at local hospitals.

During the 2005-2006 school year, Wolfpack student-athletes and staff reached thousands of people in the Triangle area through ImPACK's outreach efforts, including working with community programs such as Read-a-Thons, Habitat for Humanity, non-profit organization fundraisers, mentoring and other outreach programs.

The athletic department also sponsored a Habitat for Humanity home, with Wolfpack student-athletes from all sports participating in the construction.

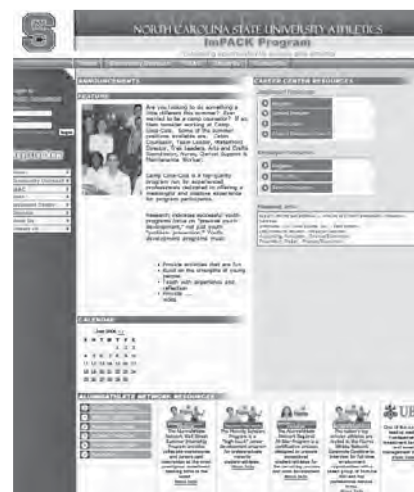

Andre Brown, J.C. Neal and Toney Baker take a moment to pose with fourth graders visiting the Weisiger-Brown Athletic Facility.

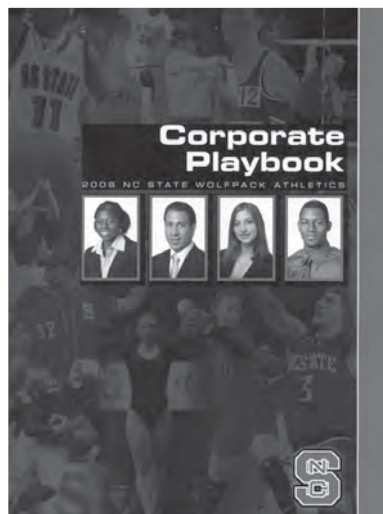

James Newby participated alongside many Wolfpack student-athletes in visiting local schools and speaking to children last year.

The Alumni Athlete Network website helps former and current NC State student-athletes find jobs and internships.

CAREER NETWORK FOR STUDENT ATHLETES

The Corporate Playbook is sent to over 1,500 potential employers each year

The Career Network for NC State student-athletes is a partnership between the ImPACK program and a variety of businesses. These businesses provide summer employment opportunities, internships and postgraduate career options.

Graduating student-athletes are featured each year in the NC State Corporate Playbook, a publication that features photos and resumes of NC State student-athletes. It is put together by the NC State Student-Athlete Development/Community Relations department and is sent to over 1,500 businesses, government agencies and corporations, providing the NC State student-athlete with major exposure.

ALUMNI ATHLETE NETWORK WEBSITE

In an effort to further prepare NC State student-athletes for the real world, the Student-Athlete Development/Community Relations department launched a new Career Development website this year that assists Wolfpack student-athletes with job placement for both internships and postgraduate employment.

Found at <http://wolfpack.alumniathlete.com>, the website contains up-to-date information with happenings on the NC State campus, as well as job opportunities. Part-time, full-time and internship position listings are also posted on the website, with student-athletes having the ability to submit resumes and apply for jobs. Employers can search the database of student-athlete resumes for workers that fit their needs.

The website is open to both former and current Wolfpack student-athletes.

NC State's sports medicine facility for football is truly among the finest in the nation. The 6,000-square-foot facility, located on the first level of the Murphy Football Center, includes more than $1,000,000 in gadgetry, including an aquatic area with three pools: a four-foot-deep hot/cold plunge pool; a three-lane, 24-feet long, multi-depth lap pool; and a treadmill pool by HydroWorx, with underwater cameras that video the athletes' movements and gait patterns via TV screen.

NC State uses machinery by Biodex for physical medicine and rehabilitation. The most appreciated piece of equipment, the Multi-Joint 3 System

Pro, allows the sports medicine staff to observe an injured joint or muscle in a controlled range of motion with real-time biofeedback. This allows the athlete to work the injured area in a monitored and safe environment. The machine includes attachments that allow for the observation of the ankle, knee, shoulder, elbow, wrist and hip.

The sports medicine facility features a state-of-the-art aquatics and hydrotherapy area. The $200,000 HydroWorx pool boasts a hydraulic system that allows the injured athletes to enter the pool at ground level and be lowered via remote control on an underwater treadmill. The pool can be used at depths from zero to six feet and athletic trainers can adjust how much weight and pressure is applied to the injured body part. Using water as a method of therapy helps to unload the body weight and allows the athlete to work with less stress on the injured portion of the body. Further, the water allows early movement, motion and gradual weight bearing exercises. This early motion and weight bearing process aides the student-athlete to progress through the rehabilitation with fantastic success. Video aids the staff in evaluating the biomechanics of the athlete's body movement, and helps the athletic trainers access the injury and get the athlete back on the field in a much quicker fashion than in the past.

Only the finest personnel in the medical profession work with NC State student-athletes. Jamey Coll, Senior Associate Director of Sports Medicine/ Head Football Athletic Trainer, is entering his 14th season as a member of the Wolfpack Sports Medicine Staff. Coll has served as the head athletic trainer for Wolfpack Football since 1996. He is certified with the National Athletic Trainers Association as an athletic trainer and is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Each year, Coll assembles a outstanding staff of medical professionals to assist in maintaining the student-athletes well-being. The staff includes a full-time assistant athletic trainer, Kevin King, a stable of medical doctors, three graduate assistant athletic trainers and 10 student assistants. All of these individuals are responsible for the health and welfare of student-athletes throughout the year.

Dr. John Rubino, the head team physician, has worked with the Wolfpack program since 1990. A graduate of the University of Connecticut medical school, Rubino currently practices with Raleigh Medical Group.

Drs. David Fajgenbaum and Mike Fajgenbaum have served as the orthopedic consultants to Wolfpack Football since 1989. The brothers, who are both graduates of Tulane University, practice at the Bone and Joint Surgery Clinic in Raleigh. Also, Dr. Paul Burroughs III has been an orthopedic consultant the last three years, and both he and Dr. Mike Fajgenbaum attended the University of Florida for medical school.

BY THE NUMBERS

- NC State's enrollment last year was 29,957
- NC State boasts a Student-to-Faculty Ratio of 16:1.
- The average class size is 35 students.
- Bachelor's degrees are available in over 100 different fields, master's in 106 fields and doctoral degrees in 59 fields.
- Students hail from all 50 states and approximately 110 countries.
- NC State's 2004 freshman class includes 76 valedictorians and 79 salutatorians. They averaged 1193 on the SAT.
- NC State ranks 7th nationally among scientific and research schools.
- Among all universities, NC State ranks 8th in research support from private industry. Annual research expenditures have increased from $65.6 million in 1984 to over $440 million in 2004.
- NC State's libraries have been selected as one of the 6 "Research Libraries of the Future" by the Association of Research Libraries.

NC STATE UNIVERSITY - A CAMPUS OF ACHIEVERS

Since being founded March 7, 1887, NC State has established itself as a dynamic academic community. More than 29,000 students from all 50 states and 110 foreign countries join to form one of the nation's most outstanding universities.

North Carolina State University has emerged as a national leader in science, engineering and technology while keeping its roots deep in the North Carolina community through comprehensive extension outreach. A strong humanities program, a vibrant theater and one of the premier Colleges of Design round out the portrait of NC State.

NC State's beautiful campus hosts a great diversity of people, programs and excitement. Student-athletes select NC State for many reasons: strong academics, outstanding athletic opportunity, excellent reputation, career advantages, the prospering Raleigh/Triangle location and many social opportunities.

THE CAMPUS

NC State's campus is comprised of 2,110 acres, with the main campus located one mile west of downtown Raleigh, the state's capital and one of the finest cities in the nation. In fact, Money Magazine named Raleigh "The Best Place To Live In America," while BestJobsUSA.com has recently called Raleigh the No. 1 place to live and work in the nation.

The state's first veterinary school is located nearby on a 182-acre campus near Carter-Finley Stadium, home of Wolfpack Football.

In addition, the future of NC State is forming around the 1,334 acre Centennial Campus. A unique venture between government, private corporations and NC State, Centennial Campus is a model of education in the new millennium. Over time, the master plan for the expansion of the Centennial will more than double the size of NC State and is currently home to over 100 leading companies and agencies.

The university's facilities are supplemented by 101,000 acres of research farms and forests across the state.

THE TOOLS FOR SUCCESS

NC State, acclaimed for its outstanding athletics program, is also known as one of the country's top research universities. It is ranked 12th among national research universities in non-federal funded research, 7th among national research universities in industry-funded research, and 30th nationally in total expenditures for research and development. NC State is ranked 1st in total research expenditures in the 16-campus

FIRST-YEAR COLLEGE

NC State's First-Year College program offers new freshmen a year of study and guidance before choosing an academic major.

Over 750 students are served by the First-Year College.

First-Year College offers a comprehensive first-year experience with immersion into the academic, social and cultural life at NC State.

First-Year College includes a career development program designed to help students make an informed choice of a major.

NEVER A DULL MOMENT

More than 300 student organizations on campus offer social, creative, recreational and academically oriented extracurricular opportunities.

Cultural and entertainment opportunities abound on campus. Over the past several years, NC State's campus has hosted three presidents, countless singing and musical groups, NBA exhibition games and many other events.

counties and the Cherokee Reservation. Being engaged with the real-life concerns of our state is part of NC State's land-grant mission, but in recent years it has been taken to a new plane. Every college at NC State now has an outreach function. You can find university faculty, staff and students working all across the state to achieve everything from better air quality to homeland security.

University of North Carolina system, and 2nd in total state and local research funding among national research universities. NC State's expenditures for research and sponsored programs exceed $440 million.

The University is ranked 17th in the nation for launching start-up companies and has received more than 500 patents for beneficial technologies developed by its world-class faculty. Students interact with and learn from industry, government and business partners every day at NC State's acclaimed Centennial Campus, which is a widely recognized model for how universities can construct academic partnerships with the private sector.

At the same time, NC State is a tremendous asset to its home state, through partnerships that foster economic development and an extension network that reaches into each of North Carolina's 100

THE LIBRARIES

The University provides several extensive libraries containing over 3.1 million volumes of books, bound journals and federal publications and over 4.63 million microforms. D.H. Hill, the main library on campus, is ranked No. 32 in the nation and is on a network system in conjunction with UNC-Chapel Hill, NC Central University and Duke University. Combined, these resources are second in number to only The Library of Congress. Aside from D.H. Hill, many colleges maintain more specific library collections in their buildings.

STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

In addition to the extensive support services offered through the ImPACK program and the office of Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes, NC State offers a number of services that are open to all students.

WOLFPACK ATHLETICS MAKES THE GRADE

The Sporting News recently rated all of the athletic departments in the country, based on the following criteria:

"Do We Win?"

"Do We Graduate?"

"Do We Rock?"

"Do We Play Fair?"

Based on those four categories, NC State was ranked ninth in the country, earning highest marks in the "Do We Rock?" and "Do We Graduate" categories.

The Tutorial Center provides free tutoring in English, foreign languages, mathematics, chemistry, physics and other freshman and sophomore courses. NC State offers academic, personal and vocational counseling to students through the Counseling Center.

The African-American Cultural Center (AACC) serves as the hub of campus activity for African-American students, as well as the community "at large". The AACC provides a supportive environment for African-American students while serving as an educational facility that promotes awareness of the African presence throughout history.

In addition, the Peer Mentoring Program is a student peer-advisory program with first year African-American students paired with returning students. The primary objective of the program is to help students with their academic, emotional and social adjustments to college.

A WEALTH OF CHOICES

Students at NC State have many academic options through our degree-granting colleges. NC State offers 102 baccalaureate degree programs, as well as dual degree programs in which students can combine varied academic interests and increase their career options. There are over 5,000 course options available at NC State. Together with more than 55 research centers, institutes and laboratories, the colleges and schools at NC State support a broad spectrum of more than 1,200 scientific, technological and scholarly research endeavors.

The university is organized into 10 colleges, the School of Design, the Graduate School and the Division of Undergraduate Studies. All students will be assigned an advisor who will help the students select their courses and prepare for life after NC State. Students may select a specific major that they wish to study, or if there is a general idea of an area of interest, choose the undeclared option of the particular college of their choice. The First Year College option allows students the opportunity to explore different programs if they are undecided about a career choice.

Following are the colleges and schools at NC State:

- College of Agricultural & Life Sciences

A SAFE ENVIRONMENT

NC State is committed to providing you with a safe environment. The Department of Public Safety's Police Division at NC State operates 365 days a year, 24 hours a day. Officers are ready to respond to all emergency calls and requests for assistance.

LIVING ON CAMPUS

The entire campus has 2,240 acres, 20 residence halls, and 295 apartments. The campus offers full student access to internet and e-mail from over 2800 computer stations. All residence halls and most off-campus housing have internet access.

A GREAT PLACE TO CALL HOME

In addition to outstanding athletics and academics, NC State offers a chance to grow and learn through a wealth of social opportunities. More than 7,000 students live on campus, putting them within walking distance to classes, labs, the libraries, theaters, concerts, art galleries and sports facilities. In addition, every dormitory room comes with connections to the NC State campus computer network.

University Dining has something for everyone and can accommodate most special nutritional needs. NC State operates a nationally recognized dining program that offers convenience, quality and service. There are 15 locations around campus, ranging from all-you-can-eat Case Dining Hall to the Wolf's Den to campus convenience stores and quick food like Chick-Fil-A and Taco Bell.

A 42,900-square-foot Student Health Center

PRODUCING LEADERS

According to the General Officers Management Branch in Washington, D.C., NC State has produced more four-star generals than any other institution (other than West Point) in America with eight.

Four-star General Henry "Hugh" Shelton is the former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and four-star General Maxwell Thurman led the U.S. forces in the 1989 invasion of Panama.

NC State alumni head more of the state's top 100 companies than graduates of any other institution in the state and the university ranks among the top 30 institutions in the nation for the number of graduates who serve as CEOs of Fortune 500 companies.

opened in 1999 to consolidate counseling, disability services, health education and medical services. Staffed with full-time physicians, nurses, pharmacy and other medical support staff, NC State's Student Health Services provides routine medical care to students on an outpatient basis. Regular student fees cover routine medical services.

MORE TO DO THAN YOU EVER IMAGINED

More than 300 extracurricular activities challenge students mentally, socially and physically and can help fill out a well-rounded college experience. Diverse clubs include special interests, while sororities and fraternities create the unity and fun of Greek life.

Activities include honor societies, a freshman fellows leadership program, a student-run newspaper and radio station, a yearbook and literary magazine, numerous pre-professional organizations, Student Government Association and musical activities. The Black Student Board, a branch of the Union Activities Board, sponsors

CENTENNIAL CAMPUS

Centennial Campus is a vision for the future of NC State and universities worldwide. The 1,334-acre site, adjacent to NC State's main campus, is quickly emerging as the Research Triangle Area's fastest growing development. There is no other research park like it in the country. A "technopolis" of university, corporate and government research, development facilities and business incubators, Centennial Campus makes it part of its goal to contribute to the overall economic development of the State of North Carolina, as well as the educational development of researchers and students alike.

GETTING AROUND

The Wolfline is NC State's University Transit System. Its six routes provide service to the Main Campus, Centennial Campus and the College of Veterinary Medicine, three Park & Ride lots and residential neighborhoods to the south of Main Campus. NC State is also served by several public transportation systems.

The campus is made up of "neighborhoods" which include laboratories, classrooms, office space, residential housing, plazas and courtyards. More than 100 government and corporate partners have already taken up residence, including the National Weather Service, Bayer Corporation, and the NASA Mars Mission Research Center. On any given day, you can find faculty, students, industry researchers and government scientists collaborating to produce scientific and technical innovations that will change the way we live and work.

To date, over $620 million has been invested in facilities and infrastructure. By the time the campus is complete, that number will grow to over $2 billion in public and private investment. Construction has included 2.7 million square feet of space in 25 major building modules and 13 additional buildings are in the design and construction phases.

Located on the banks of beautiful Lake Raleigh, Centennial Campus consists of several multidisciplinary R&D neighborhoods, university, corporate and government facilities supported by advanced technology and infrastructure. Upon completion, the campus will weave together a community encompassing a hotel and conference center, a championship golf course, apartments and single family homes and a middle school.

A COLLEGE TOWN

There are seven colleges and universities within Wake Counties borders. In addition to NC State, Raleigh is home to four other institutions of higher learning: Meredith College (women's college), Peace College (women's college), St. Augustine's College and Shaw University. NC Central University, UNC-Chapel Hill and Duke University are also located within 30 minutes of the NC State campus.

In his introductory remarks to the campus, Chancellor James L. Oblinger said that when he came to NC State in 1986, "my goal was to be a part of an academic community that put its students and faculty first. To be part of an educational environment that didn't rest on its laurels to maintain the status quo, but one that was energized by possibility and invigorated by a desire to achieve. I found what I was looking for, and much more, here at NC State."

Now, with almost two decades of service to the university, Oblinger has gained an even greater affinity for NC State.

"Over the years, NC State has remained true to its mission of teaching, research and extension," he said. "That's part of why I stayed – the excellence I've seen in those areas. It's also personal. My wife, Diana, is an adjunct professor here, and our four sons all have attended NC State."

By the time he was named chancellor in October 2004, Oblinger had already made many friends throughout the state. He served as provost – essentially the number two administrator on campus and the highest ranking academic officer – after serving as dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, a position that required extensive travel in North Carolina.

"It's always gratifying when I'm out in the state and have someone tell me how much they appreciate what NC State has done for their community or their business, or their family," Oblinger said. "No matter where I go, there are people who are very appreciative of NC State."

Oblinger leads North Carolina's flagship university for science, engineering and technology, a university whose national reputation continues to grow stronger. NC State is ranked third in life science patents, fifth in research expenditures among peer universities without a medical school and first in industry-sponsored research expenditures. The university ranked in the top 5 of U.S. News & World Report's "best values in public higher education" and ranked second in the "best value among public institutions" by the Princeton Review. With 19 graduate programs ranked in the top 30 among public universities, NC State is an academic and research leader in higher education.

The university has nearly 7,000 full-time employees and 30,000 students. NC State offers bachelor's degrees in 100 fields of study, master's degrees in 106 fields and doctoral degrees in 59 fields, as well as a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree.

The chancellor's vision for NC State emphasizes scholarship for the 21st century, a culture of innovation, an inclusive and diverse campus community, and organizational capability and effectiveness. He also believes in creating and supporting a strong student experience at NC State.

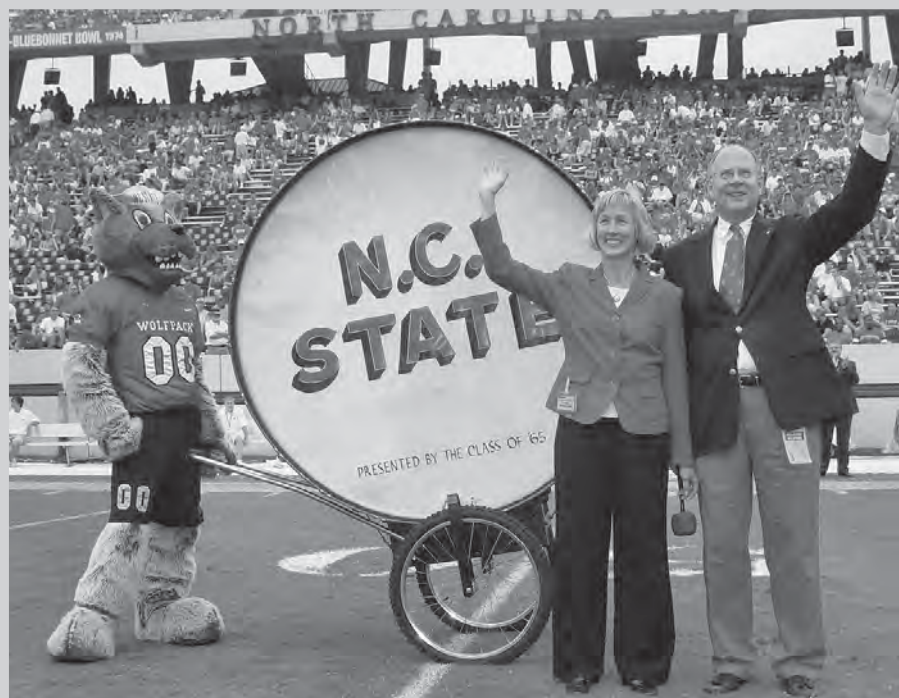

"Yes, we are the largest institution in the state," he said. "We have the most students, but I like to think that our faculty and staff make us the most personal institution in the system. We've never lost sight of the individual. Where else would undergraduate students have access to the quality of faculty and program exposure that they have here?"

"But the student experience goes beyond the classrooms and laboratories. We look at the total student experience. It's the residence halls, the clubs and organizations, athletics and social component. It's also the richness and diversity of our campus. I know our students set high goals for themselves. We have to create an atmosphere that helps them reach those goals. I believe what we offer each student is unique."

While the Oblingers keep a busy schedule – Diana is vice president of EDUCAUSE, a nonprofit organization that advances higher education by promoting the intelligent use of information technology – you'll frequently find them at athletic events.

"When it comes to athletics, we have great facilities," Oblinger said. "We dedicated new facilities for baseball and tennis just last year. We continue to renovate Carter-Finley Stadium for football. The basketball team plays in a nearly new facility – even Reynolds Coliseum, one of our oldest and most historic facilities, is being renovated."

"But the atmosphere at our games certainly doesn't stop with the quality of our facilities. Wolfpack fans from all walks of life – students, faculty, staff, alumni, families and friends – come together to cheer for our teams. Our games are great unifying events for our university. It's part of what makes NC State a great university."

September 5, 2000 signaled a new era of athletic excellence for NC State. That was the day Lee G. Fowler was introduced to the media as the new Director of Athletics. The most critical need would become his major priority—to restore NC State's

When Lee Fowler was introduced as NC State's new Director of Athletics on Sept. 5, 2000, he not only brought experience and professional leadership to that role, but more importantly, he understood that only through teamwork and the support of the university's administration would he be able to meet the huge challenges of his plan - to restore NC State's athletics facilities to a level of excellence enjoyed by the top programs in America. That plan was an unprecedented 6-year, $120 million building campaign. That meant not just raising the funding in that time-frame, but also completing the construction and renovation of facilities.

An ambitious goal? Without question. An aggressive goal? Definitely. But was it doable? And secondly, was it doable while still meeting the day to day challenges of running a department with nearly 200 coaches and staff, and 550 plus student-athletes, while meeting a rising annual operating budget of $35-$40 million.

Amazingly, after six years of determination and tireless effort, Fowler does, in fact, have the Wolfpack facilities among the nation's elite. And for that he thanks the University administration, the fans, and the thousands of Wolfpack Club members who gave their loyal support to make the plan a reality. While new facilities will always be needed, only one master plan project is still in progress—the $5 million softball-soccer-track complex on campus, scheduled for completion in 2007.

The face of NC State athletics has changed dramatically in the past six years. And it's not only the high visibility sports that have benefited. Improvements include: state of the art academic support and study centers and increased academic support staffing, a newly renovated Case Athletic Academic Center, multiple strength training facilities, new locker rooms, multiple sports medicine facilities, student-athlete lounge areas, expanded support services include video, marketing, media relations, and student-athlete development. The icing on the cake is that top-quality competition venues now exist for virtually all of the 23 men's and women's sports.

Known as a "hands-on" director, the 54-year-old Fowler is committed to success in all sports. Fowler's management approach is to provide the tools, resources and support that the coaches need to succeed, then expect quality programs and positive results. It seems to be effective as in 2005-06 all spring sports participated in NCAA postseason tournaments for the first time in school history. And 17 of the 23 sports qualified for postseason play.

Ticket sales, attendance and fundraising totals are a good barometer of an athletic program's financial health. Bolstered by the sale of Lifetime Seat Rights and effective marketing, these totals have grown dramatically during Fowler's tenure. Football has sold out all of its season ticket inventory the past three years. Men's basketball sales have exceeded a record $5 million the past three years. Attendance has been in the Top 20 nationally and improved to a No. 15 ranking for 2005-06. Wolfpack Club annual giving has set records each year, at the same time the WPC was raising nearly $100 million to fund new facilities.

Fowler's objective has been to exceed, not just meet, the requirements of Title IX. He has provided the maximum allowable scholarships for all sports, as well as major upgrades to women's sports facilities. He has also made it a priority to create effective partnerships with Chancellor James Oblinger, his executive officers team, the administration and faculty, and student body. Those partnerships have fostered a spirit of unity which is vital to the joint missions of the university and NC State athletics.

NC State has been a leader in the number of ACC post-graduate scholarship awards won, and student-athletes continue to achieve graduation rates and overall grade point averages comparable to the general student body. Fowler continues to increase funding for the Academic Support Program as part of a priority commitment to the academic success of the student-athletes.

In 2002, Fowler chaired the prestigious NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee after serving on the committee since 1997. He was named Time.com's Person of the Week in March of 2002. Fowler now chairs the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Issues Committee and also serves on various ACC committees. Other activities keep him busy, such as the annual Lee Fowler Charity Golf Classic, which benefits the Jim 'Catfish' Hunter chapter of the ALS Foundation (which fights Lou Gehrig's disease). Fowler also co-hosts a half-hour weekly television show from April through August, "Inside Wolfpack Sports," which airs Saturdays at noon on WRAZ-Fox 50 in Raleigh and on selected cable systems statewide.

A native of Columbia, Tenn., Fowler is married to the former Carol Murray of St. Clair Shores, Michigan. The couple has three daughters, Ashley (27), Kristin Leigh (21) and Carlee (17).

Ashley, married to Trevor Giles, earned a master's degree from MTSU and works as a pharmaceutical sales representative for GlaxoSmithKline. Kristin is a senior at NC State. Carlee is a senior at Broughton High School where she plays volleyball and is an accomplished guitarist.

GAME 1

Virginia Tech 20, NC State 16
Sept. 4, 2005 • 7:15 p.m. • espn2
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,500

NC State's defense was solid, allowing eighth-ranked Virginia Tech to gain just 232 yards, while the Wolfpack offense was productive, producing 438 yards of total offense but the Wolfpack racked up a dozen penalties for 105 yards and that ended up being the difference in the game, as the Pack lost its first season opener since 1996, 16-20.

Senior quarterback Jay Davis notched career-highs in passing yards (311) and completions (27) as he took command of new offensive coordinator Marc Trestman's offense. Senior slotback Tramain Hall led all receivers with eight catches for 97 yards, including a 32-yard gain that pushed the offense into Hokie territory with under 30 seconds to play. Davis' last gasp throw towards the endzone was picked off as time expired.

The Pack offense jumped on the Hokies on its first drive after the defense forced the first of four three-and-outs in the first half, with sophomore tailback Darrell Blackman capping a 14-play, 83-yard drive with a 25-yard touchdown run through the Hokie defense. Virginia Tech answered on its next series with a nine-play, 80-yard drive of its own, capped off by a Mike Imoh five-yard scamper to tie the game.

Redshirt junior John Deraney kicked the first of three field goals with 8:49 remaining in the second quarter, a 33-yarder that gave NC State a 10-7 lead. Those three field goals tied Deraney's career best. Virginia Tech's Brandon Pace answered with a 44-yard field goal over six minutes later to knot the score, but Deraney nailed his second attempt of the half, a 27-yarder, as time expired for a 13-10 Wolfpack advantage at the break.

As the penalties began to mount for NC State, Virginia Tech took advantage, marching 88 yards in 17 plays as Pace connected on a 28-yard field goal. The drive started from the Hokies' 1-yard line where Deraney's punt was downed, but a facemask penalty on third-down from the Hokie eight-yard line kept the drive alive.

In the fourth, Virginia Tech took advantage of great field position as quarterback Marcus Vick found David Clowney for a 19-yard touchdown pass for the deciding score. Deraney added a 35-yard field goal on the next possession after NC State's special teams came up with a big play on fourth down to keep the drive alive. Punting from its own 31-yard line, snapper William Lee hiked the ball to the up man, DaJuan Morgan, who cruised for 44-yards to the Hokie 25 yard line.

Virginia Tech ate up over 7:30 minutes of clock, aided by a roughing the kicker penalty on NC State, on its next drive, leaving 39 seconds on the clock for the final Wolfpack drive.

Blackman ended up with 151 yards of all-purpose yardage, while Davis completed 63 percent of his attempts (27-43). Linebacker Stephen Tulloch led the Pack in tackles, notching 13.

GAME 2

NC State 54, Eastern Kentucky 10
Sept. 17, 2005 • 6:00 p.m.
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 56,747

From the opening kickoff, NC State showed it was ready to play against Eastern Kentucky and 56,747 screaming fans. Senior line-backer Oliver Hoyte's crunching hit on EKU return man Tremayne Perkins forced a fumble that Hoyte recovered to set the tone early in the 54-10 Wolfpack romp. Freshman tailback Toney Baker earned his first career start, scoring three touchdowns on seven touches in the first quarter, and senior quarterback Jay Davis completed 12-of-17 passes for 234 yards and two touchdowns as NC State outgained its opponent for the 14th consecutive game. Five of the seven Wolfpack touchdowns against EKU were scored by true freshmen, as Baker (3), Geron James and Andre Brown each scored.

Baker scored on the second play from scrimmage with a 13-yard touchdown reception from Davis, as NC State scored just 44 seconds into the game. Junior kicker John Deraney connected on the first of two field goals on the Wolfpack's second drive, before Baker again found the endzone. After a three-and-out forced the Colonels to punt, sophomore tailback Darrell Blackman set up the offense at the EKU 32-yard line with a 13-yard punt return. On the first play of the series, Baker broke through the hole and barrelled his way into the endzone on a 32-yard scamper and a 17-0 Wolfpack advantage. Baker would score again on NC State's next possession with a three-yard touchdown run after a 20-yard Bobby Washington gain set up the Wolfpack inside the EKU five.

Freshman tailback Andre Brown scored from seven yards out for his first collegiate touchdown on the ensuing Wolfpack drive, as NC State opened up a 31-0 first quarter lead. The 31 points in the quarter were the most in any quarter since at least 1980 for NC State.

The second quarter saw another Wolfpack touchdown, with senior slotback Tramain Hall scoring his first of the season on an eight-yard grab in the corner of the endzone from Davis. The Colonels finally got on the board in the second quarter, as Steven Cassell returned a Marcus Stone fumble 20-yards for a score to make it 38-7 at the half.

Blackman ignited the crowd at the start of the second half, taking a short pass from Davis and sprinting down the sideline for a 70-yard touchdown, the longest pass-and-catch for both players in their career.

Taylor Long kicked a 24-yard field goal in the third, and Deraney chipped in his second, a 37-yarder, in the third quarter.

Stone would throw for his first career touchdown with a five-yard strike to freshman wideout Geron James, the first touchdown of his career as well, in the fourth quarter with just over seven minutes to play for the games final score.

NC State racked up 475 total yards and allowed just 228, with Stephen Tulloch (eight tackles), leading the defense for the second straight contest. Tulloch currently ranks second in the ACC in tackles-per-game at 10.5.

GAME 3

North Carolina 31, NC State 24
Sept. 24, 2005 • 12:00 p.m.
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,500

After a wild first quarter and four lead changes, North Carolina defeated NC State 31-24 in the 95th meeting of the longtime rivals in front of a capacity crowd of 57,500 at Carter-Finley Stadium. The Wolfpack took a 24-14 lead early in the third quarter but couldn't make the lead stand up as North Carolina outscored NC State 17-0 the rest of the way for the victory. Wolfpack quarterback Jay Davis completed 21-of-35 passes for 257 yards and a touchdown and freshman tailback Toney Baker scored twice and ran for 58 yards in the loss.

North Carolina marched to the Wolfpack seven to open the game after a 62-yard run by Barrington Edwards. NC State rover Garland Heath stopped the Heels from scoring with his first career interception, picking off UNC QB Matt Baker in the endzone. The Tar Heels would get it right back, as a three-and-out forced punter John Deraney to kick out of his own endzone. The punt was blocked, and Quinton Person scampered 11 yards for a 7-0 Tar Heel lead.

NC State scored the next 10 points to take the lead, getting a 22-yard field goal from Deraney and a 14-yard touchdown run from Baker for the first lead change. The two teams then exchanged fumbles - two by NC State and one by North Carolina - that set the Tar Heels up with a first and goal from inside the five. Baker found Jawarski Pollock for a three-yard touchdown three plays later for a 14-10 North Carolina lead at the half.

Wolfpack tailback Darrell Blackman returned the opening kickoff of the second half 73 yards to the North Carolina 26 yardline, and a 17-yard completion to Tramain Hall setup a 2-yard plunge from Toney Baker for his second touchdown of the afternoon. The score gave Baker five total touchdowns (four rushing, one receiving) in the last two contests.

A swarming NC State defense forced a punt on the next series, as defensive ends Manny Lawson and Mario Williams collected sacks of the UNC quarterback for a three-and-out.

With the ball at the North Carolina 39, Davis found tight end T.J. Williams for a 39-yard touchdown and a 24-14 Wolfpack lead. North Carolina clawed back into the game, scoring the last 17 points of the contest to rally for the win, 31-24.

Wolfpack linebacker Stephen Tulloch led all players with 19 tackles, including six tackles for loss.

GAME 4

NC State 17, ^{24/23} Georgia Tech 14

Oct. 6, 2005 • 7:45 p.m.

Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga. • 51,432

NC State came from behind to defeat No. 24/23 Georgia Tech, 17-14, in Atlanta, Ga. with a dramatic goal line stand and a late 80-yard touchdown strike from Jay Davis to Brian Clark. The Wolfpack saw its 10 point halftime lead turn into a 14-10 deficit with 14:47 left in the fourth quarter, but Clark caught Davis' pass and turned on the jets for a dramatic touchdown with just over seven minutes remaining. Georgia Tech wouldn't quit, driving 74 yards to the Wolfpack two-yard line with 26 seconds remaining in the contest. Tech quarterback Reggie Ball floated a pass to Calvin Johnson in the middle of the endzone, but Johnson was hit from behind by cornerback Marcus Hudson and the ball deflected in the air. Rover Garland Heath snatched the pass out of the air for the interception in the endzone to seal the Wolfpack win, the first in Atlanta since 1988.

Davis and Clark connected in the first quarter on a 40-yard touchdown strike to start the scoring, as NC State broke out the flea-flicker to take the early lead. Davis handed off to Toney Baker, who had 68 yards rushing on the night, as he looked for a hole to the right side of the formation. Baker then stopped and pitched back to Davis, who launched a perfect pass to a wide open Clark for a 7-0 Wolfpack advantage. Clark finished the game with a career-high 148 yards receiving on just four catches.

NC State would add a 36-yard Deraney field goal in the second quarter for a 10-0 advantage, as the Wolfpack defense held Ball to 6-of-25 passing for 73 yards at the break.

Georgia Tech came out and outgained NC State 153 to 51 in the third quarter, including a 27-yard catch from Ball to Johnson with 6:57 left to trim the lead to 10-7. The Yellow Jackets scored 13 seconds into the fourth quarter on a 12-yard P.J. Daniels run to take its first lead of the contest, 14-10.

Tech looked to push its lead to seven points with just under eight minutes left in the contest, as kicker Travis Bell lined up for a 24-yard field goal. He missed wide right and NC State got the ball at the 20-yard line. Davis found Clark across the middle on the first play of the drive for the 80-yard score, the longest of Clark and Davis' career.

In addition to winning in Atlanta for the first time since 1988, NC State had lost nine of the last 10 against the Jackets including four straight and the win also broke a six-game ACC losing streak for NC State. The defense was led by the sure tackling of Stephen Tulloch, who notched 15 stops, his third double-digit tackle game in four contests this season.

GAME 5

Clemson 31, NC State 10

Oct. 13, 2005 • 7:45 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,500

Clemson built an early 21-0 lead and never looked back as NC State fell 31-10 at Carter-Finley Stadium. After forcing two three-and-outs in Clemson's first two series, the Wolfpack defense couldn't clamp down, as the Tigers' offensive scored touchdowns on its next four possessions to take a commanding 28-10 lead at the half. Darrell Blackman scored on a 20-yard touchdown run for NC State, and John Deraney hit his eighth field goal of the season, a 25-yard kick in the second quarter, for the lone Wolfpack scores of the evening. Blackman finished with 46 yards rushing and 161 kickoff return yards, the third most yards in school history.

After forcing Clemson into a three-and-out on its first drive, NC State drove inside the red zone but failed to score as Deraney missed his first field goal of the season, a 36-yard attempt. The Wolfpack defense stood tall in forcing another quick Tigers punt, but the offense gave the ball right back after its own three-and-out. Clemson never looked back. The Tigers drove 83 yards in eight plays as Charlie Whitehurst connected with Curtis Baham for a 7-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The lead quickly grew to 21-0, with the Tigers driving 72 yards for another Whitehurst touchdown toss and a 12 yard touchdown run from James Davis on its next two series as NC State was forced to punt and Toney Baker lost a fumble on offense.

NC State answered with an eight play, 80 yard drive of its own, capped off by the 20-yard scamper from Blackman for a 21-7 Clemson lead.

Clemson would waste little time in answering, driving 80 yards in just five plays to score just two minutes later on another Davis touchdown run.

NC State would add a Deraney field goal with a 30 seconds left in the half as Darrell Blackman setup the series with a 77-yard kickoff return down to the Clemson 20 yard line.

Both team's tightened defensively in the second half, with the only scoring play coming on a Jad Dean 30 yard field goal with 2:23 left in the third quarter.

Stephen Tulloch led the Wolfpack defense in tackles for the fifth time in five games this season, notching 14 tackles. John McCargo tallied four tackles for loss in the contest for NC State.

GAME 6

Wake Forest 27, NC State 19

Oct. 22, 2005 • 3:30 p.m.

Groves Stadium • Winston-Salem, N.C. • 33,316

Despite scoring 19 straight points to come from behind and take the lead, NC State fell 27-19 to Wake Forest at Groves Stadium. The Wolfpack defense held the conference leading Demon Deacon rushing attack to just 85 yards, while allowing only 2-of-16 third down conversions. Aside from giving up the least amount of yards all season, the NC State team collected only four penalties on the day, the fewest in a span of 22 games dating back to the 2003 Duke contest. Marcus Stone threw a career high two touchdown passes, while eclipsing the 100-yard passing mark for the first time.

Forcing a three-and-out on NC State's first drive, Sam Swank booted the first of two straight field goals for Wake Forest to give the Deacons the early edge in the first quarter. On Wake's next possession, Swank kicked another field goal from the Wolfpack 40. Following the kickoff, Josh Gattis picked off a Jay Davis pass on the first play from scrimmage and returned it 34-yards for a touchdown. With both defenses forcing several punts over the next few possessions, Mario Williams recorded the first Wolfpack safety since the 2002 Florida State game by taking down Demon Deacon quarterback Ben Mauk for a five-yard sack into the end zone with 7:08 left in the first half. On the Pack's final drive of the half, Stone connected with Brian Clark for a 36-yard score to cut the Wake Forest lead to four following John Deraney's extra point.

On the first possession of the third quarter, Stone marched the Wolfpack offense to the Wake Forest three-yard line, setting up a 21-yard field goal from Deraney. Three plays into the next Wake Forest drive, Chris Barclay lost control of the football on a crushing blow from Manny Lawson. Stone then hit Tramain Hall on a 19-yard pass for the final Wolfpack touchdown, while NC State took a 19-13 lead with 8:55 left in the third quarter.

Wake Forest regained a 20-19 lead on a nine yard touchdown run by Nate Morton. On the Pack's next drive, Alphonso Smith picked off a Stone pass and returned it 23 yards for the final Wake Forest score, giving the Demon Deacons a game-winning 27-19 lead with 36 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Davis returned at quarterback for the Pack in the fourth quarter, helping lead the team deep into Wake Forest territory. Toney Baker assisted the drive, recording a career-high 36-yard rush. Threatening to score, Riley Swanson intercepted a Davis pass in the end zone for a touchback with 11:10 left in the game. Both defenses held tight for the remainder of the contest, with Wake Forest stopping a fake punt by the NC State offense on its final drive.

Brian Clark went over 1,000 career receiving yards with his first catch of the game. He finished with five catches for 74 yards, including a 36-yard score from Stone. Clark's three touchdown grabs this season already match his season-high.

John Deraney's field goal in the third quarter makes him 9-of-10 on the season, with at least one field goal in every game. Deraney's nine punts stand as the second most of his career.

GAME 7

NC State 21, Southern Miss 17

Oct. 29, 2005 • 12:00 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 52,500

Paced by a record setting afternoon from Andre Brown and Mario Williams, NC State used a strong rushing attack and a stout defense to defeat Southern Miss., 21-17, in quarterback Marcus Stone's first career start. Stone threw the go-ahead touchdown pass to Brian Clark with 5:08 remaining in the fourth to complete the comeback as the Wolfpack trailed 17-7 with 14:08 to play in the game. NC State improved to 3-4 on the season while Southern Miss. fell to 4-3. Andre Brown rushed for a freshman school record 248 yards, three shy of the single game rushing school record, as the Wolfpack offense produced 297 yards on the ground. Brown scored on runs of eight and 61 yards in the second half after NC State was down 14-0 with just over nine minutes remaining in the third.

Southern Miss. scored on its fifth possession of the game, as neither team could find its offense early in the 1st quarter. After a Stone interception gave the Golden Eagles the ball at the Wolfpack 22-yardline, Larry Thomas scored from one yard out to claim a 7-0 lead. Both teams failed to score in the second quarter, but Brown dazzled, darting 41 yards on his first carry of the game and finished with 96 in the second quarter.

The Golden Eagles' Josh Barnes made a sensational diving catch for a 16-yard touchdown from Dustin Almond to stake Southern Miss. to a 14-0 lead with just under nine minutes left in the quarter.

NC State answered on its next possession, driving 80 yards on nine plays as Brown scored from eight yards out to cut the lead to 14-7 with 5:27 left in the third. Brown accounted for 19 rushing yards and 31 receiving yards on the drive, with Stone heating up through the air, completing 4-of-6 passes for 67 yards.

The Wolfpack defense held the Golden Eagles to a field goal early in the fourth quarter, despite Southern Miss having a first-and-goal at the NC State nine yardline. The kick made it 17-7, but Brown exploded for a 61-yard touchdown run on the third play of the ensuing series to trim the lead to three. The defense forced a three-and-out against Southern Miss. after the kickoff, as Williams sacked Almond for one of his school record four sacks to lead the defense and help hold Southern Miss. to 246 yards of total offense.

Stone led the winning drive, a 15 play, 52 yard effort as NC State ran the ball 10 times. It was Stone's arm that made the difference as he found Clark open in the left corner of the endzone for a three yard score on third-and-goal to put NC State up for good, 21-17. Southern Miss. would get the ball back with just over two minutes left in the game, but punt returner Jasper Faulk fumbled the punt and LeRue Rumph recovered for the Wolfpack to seal the outcome. Stephen Tulloch led the defense in tackles for the seventh time in as many games, notching 12 tackles and is second in the conference in tackles at 13 per game.

GAME 8

NC State 20, ⁸⁹Florida State 15

Nov. 5, 2005 • 3:30 p.m.

Doak Campbell Stadium • Tallahassee, Fla. • 83,912

Wolfpack tailback Andre Brown ran for 179 yards, including a 65-yard touchdown run on the second play of the game, as NC State used a strong defense and a 10-point third quarter to down Florida State, 20-15, in Tallahassee. It was only the second time the Seminoles had lost to an ACC team at home, with NC State's 2001 win the only other instance. NC State defeated a top-10 team for the first time since that 2001 win over the Seminoles, and it was the first win over a ranked team since the 2003 Gator Bowl against Notre Dame. Wolfpack kicker John Deraney kicked two field goals and AJ Davis intercepted two Drew Weatherford passes in the win as NC State improved to 4-4 and 2-4 in the ACC. The Seminoles fell to 7-2, 5-2 ACC.

After a long incompletion on the first play from scrimmage, Brown took Marcus Stone's handoff up the middle, broke two Seminoles tackles, and darted 65 yards for the longest Wolfpack touchdown run since Ray Robinson's 87-yarder in 2001 against Duke.

Both defenses held tough after the play, allowing next to nothing in the quarter before Cismesia kicked a 25-yard field goal to get Florida State on the board with over 12 minutes left in the second quarter. The Seminoles would take their only lead of the game five minutes later, as Weatherford hit Chris Davis for a 33-yard touchdown and a 10-7 'Noles lead.

The Wolfpack would answer to tie the score before intermission, as Deraney hit a season-long 48-yard field goal with just over four minutes left to keep the score at 10. It was the third longest of his career, as he kicked a 49-yarder and a 53-yarder last season.

NC State wasted little time after the break for the go ahead score, as the team drove 80 yards on 11 plays for Deraney's second field goal of the game, a 22-yarder. Tramain Hall had a key 36-yard catch on the drive to get the Wolfpack into the redzone.

Tight end Anthony Hill scored his first career touchdown after NC State drove inside the redzone late in the third quarter. On a key 3rd and 14 play, John Ritcher made a 16-yard catch and run for a first down at the six to keep the drive alive. Two plays later Stone found Hill open in the endzone for a 20-10 Wolfpack advantage.

Florida State blocked back-to-back punts in the fourth quarter, but NC State held the Seminoles to a field goal off of the first punt. Florida State returned the second block to the five yardline before AJ Davis intercepted his second pass of the game to keep the Seminoles off of the scoreboard.

Again NC State was forced to punt, this time from its own endzone, but Deraney and the Wolfpack opted to take a safety instead. After the ensuing free kick, Weatherford was picked off by Garland Heath, who returned the ball 40-yards with eight seconds remaining to seal the outcome.

The defense allowed less than 250 yards for the fifth time this season and for the third straight game. Even more impressive, Florida State managed only 43 yards on the ground on 23 attempts, the lowest opponent output since East Carolina recorded just 30 yards last season.

GAME 9

^{NR25}Boston College 30, NC State 10

Nov. 12, 2005 • 7:15 p.m.

Alumni Stadium • Chestnut Hill, Mass. • 42,826

NC State fell for the first time in three games as the Wolfpack took on Boston College for the first time since 1937. The Eagles' 30-10 victory stands as only the third NC State loss of 20 or more points in the 71 games coached by Chuck Amato. Marcus Stone threw for a career-high 247 yards and 13 completions.

The Pack got off to a hot start when Stone connected with Brian Clark for a 96-yard bomb down the left sideline, giving NC State an early 7-0 advantage less than five minutes into the game. The pass stands as the second longest pass in school history, and ninth longest play overall. Fate seemed to be in the Wolfpack's favor, as Manny Lawson forced a football on a quarterback sack during the Eagles ensuing possession. Stone and Andre Brown pushed NC State further up the field, setting up a successful 48-yard field goal from John Deraney. After mounting a 10-0 lead, the NC State offense struggled for the remainder of the game as Boston College scored 30 unanswered points to send the Pack home empty handed.

L.V. Whitworth got the Eagles' started with a 1-yard touchdown run near the end of the first quarter. Less than four minutes into the second quarter, William Troost booted a 20-yard field goal to tie the score at 10-10. On the next NC State drive, Ryan Henderson picked off a Stone pass, the first Wolfpack turnover in eight straight quarters, and carried it 31 yards into Wolfpack territory. Following an incomplete pass, Ryan found Chris Miller down the middle to put Boston College ahead for good, 17-10 at the half.

The Eagles' scored all 13 second-half points as the Wolfpack offense failed to get anything going. Ryan ran for two scores, a 3-yard jaunt in the third quarter and 1-yard carry in the fourth, with Troost missing his final extra point attempt.

Boston College was the first team in five games to amass over 300 yards of total offense against the NC State defense. Prior to his second quarter interception, Stone had thrown 45 consecutive passes and three touchdowns without tossing the ball away. Tramain Hall's four catches for 65 yards puts him at sixth in school history with 123 career catches. Brian Clark's 96-yard score from Stone stands as his new career long, surpassing an 80-yard touchdown grab from Jay Davis earlier in the season at Georgia Tech.

Oliver Hoyte led the NC State defense with 14 tackles, while Manny Lawson notched four tackles for loss.

GAME 10

NC State 24, Middle Tennessee State 3

Nov. 19, 2005 • 1:00 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 37,217

After allowing a 26-yard field goal to open the game, the NC State defense clamped down to shut out Middle Tennessee State and help the Wolfpack collect its second-straight home victory. In over 38 minutes of work on the field, the Wolfpack defense blocked a punt to setup a touchdown and returned an interception for a score, while allowing just three points and 50 yards rushing. Manny Lawson, Mario Williams and A.J. Davis each tallied sacks against the Blue Raiders. Middle Tennessee State would collect its only three points on the opening drive of the game, capping off the 71-yard jaunt with a 26-yard field goal from Colby Smith. The Pack would even the score on its first possession of the second quarter, as Andre Brown and Tramain Hall combined on nine-straight rushing plays to march NC State to the nine-yard line. John Deraney nailed a 27-yard field goal to tie the score at 3-3.

The Blue Raiders found themselves on shaky ground as they took possession of the ball with just over four minutes to go in the second half on the MTSU 20. Unable to grab a first down, DaJuan Morgan broke into the backfield to block Middle Tennessee State's punt attempt while Brian Clark recovered the ball on the MTSU 10-yard line. On the very next snap, Brown darted into the end zone for a score, and NC State never looked back.

NC State reached pay dirt again to open the second half. Brown returned the kickoff 32 yards, then added 10 more on two running plays. Marcus Stone then found Clark through the air for 34 yards before hitting T.J. Williams in the end zone for a 6-yard touchdown pass. The Wolfpack sealed the victory with 8:47 left in the third quarter as Stephen Tulloch intercepted a Clint Marks pass and dashed 50-yards up field into the end zone for the final score of the game. Andre Brown finished with 94 yards rushing and his fifth rushing touchdown of the season, while Marcus Stone completed six passes to six different receivers in the game for 85 yards. Stone improved to 3-1 as a starter.

Morgan's blocked kick stands as the first of his career, and the blocked punt serves as the Wolfpack's 28th blocked kick since 2000, second most nationally. Tulloch's interception return for a touchdown marks the first touchdown in his career. The three points allowed by the Wolfpack defense is the fewest since a 13-3 win at Maryland on Oct. 16 of the 2004 season.

GAME 11

NC State 20, Maryland 14

Nov. 26, 2005 • 12:00 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 52,312

NC State became bowl eligible with its fourth win in five games after a 20-14 win over Maryland. Marcus Hudson picked off two passes, returning one for a score, and Mario Williams set three school marks for sacks as the stingy Wolfpack defense held Maryland to 33 rushing yards on 30 attempts, and only 265 for the game. Quarterback Marcus Stone completed 11-of-14 passes in the second half for 108 yards, and Toney Baker scored on a 1-yard touchdown run in the third for the go ahead score.

The Wolfpack jumped on the board first, getting a 38-yard John Deraney field goal, one of two in the game, to take a 3-0 lead in the first quarter. Maryland would score on a 1-yard Lance Ball touchdown to make it 7-3 at the break. Despite Maryland holding a 12-1 advantage in first downs and a 147-39 total yards difference, the Wolfpack defense allowed only one score in the opening half.

After Maryland forced a Wolfpack punt to open the second half, Tank Tyler sacked Maryland QB Sam Hollenbach for a 14 yard loss, forcing the Terps to punt from its own endzone. NC State got the ball at mid-field and pounded out an 11 play drive that took almost six minutes off the clock, culminating in Baker's touchdown plunge behind defensive tackle DeMario Pressley's block, as Pressley was lined up at fullback. NC State would take advantage of two straight Maryland turnovers in the fourth quarter to build a 20-7 lead. Marcus Hudson wrestled the ball from the Maryland receiver for an interception before spinning and sprinting 28-yards up the sideline for the touchdown. After NC State kicked off to the terps, Hollenbach dropped back to pass on second down and was sacked by Williams, his school record fourth sack of the afternoon. Williams forced a fumble on the play, with Pressley recovering at the Maryland 16-yardline. Deraney added a 29-yard kick to make it 20-7.

Maryland settled down and answered, driving 75 yards in 11 plays to make it 20-14 after a 15-yard touchdown catch by Vernon Davis from Hollenbach.

The Maryland comeback was short lived however, as Hudson intercepted Hollenbach with 34 seconds remaining to seal the game and make NC State bowl eligible for the fifth time in sixth seasons under Chuck Amato.

Williams has 13 sacks this season, a school record, and 24 for his career, tying the Wolfpack career mark. With the win, NC State finished with a winning record after starting 2-4, the first time since 1965 that a Wolfpack team has ended with a winning record after a similar start through six games.

GAME 12

NC State 14, South Florida 0

Dec. 31, 2005 • 11:00 a.m.

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, N.C. • 57,937

NC State turned in a storybook ending to a rollercoaster season with a 14-0 victory over South Florida in the Meineke Car Care Bowl in Charlotte, N.C. on New Year's Eve. The defense, led by bowl MVP Stephen Tulloch, carried the Pack through four commanding quarters of football, as the Pack shut out the Bulls in USF's first bowl game appearance in school history. It marked the only shutout in a bowl last year and the first ever by the Wolfpack.

Both offenses sputtered at times throughout the game against solid defensive play. NC State drew first blood in the second quarter, with Marcus Stone finding Brian Clark in the right corner of the South Florida endzone for a nine-yard score. Forcing a punt on USF's next drive, the Pack marched down field again with help on the ground from Toney Baker, in addition to another Stone to Clark connection, moving the ball 41-yards down field. With less than 20 seconds remaining in the first half, Andre Brown reached payday on a one-yard jaunt into the endzone for the final score of the day.

On the second Bull's possession of the third quarter, Tulloch delivered a devastating blow to quarterback Carlton Hill, forcing a fumble which Tulloch also recovered. Three plays later, Stone would lose the ball for the Pack on a fumble and return possession to South Florida. On the very next play, DeMario Pressley forced Hill to cough the ball up for a second time, with Tank Tyler securing the ball for NC State.

South Florida made things interesting early in the fourth quarter, clawing their way to the NC State 17-yard line and threatening to score. Quarterback Pat Julmiste tried to find a target in the endzone for a touchdown, but Garland Heath stepped into the passing lane and snatched his fifth interception of the season.

Mario Williams was credited with 1.5 sacks during the game, bringing his career total to 25.5. In just three years with the red and white, Williams leaves the school as the leader in career, game and season sacks and tackles for loss.

With the win, the Wolfpack defeated the odds and silenced its critics by ending the season at 7-5 after a 2-4 start early on in the year. NC State now stands at 4-1 in postseason bowl games under Chuck Amato. Tulloch collected 15 tackles, three sacks and five tackles for loss on the day.

Howard Turner, who played for the Wolfpack from 1944-46, still boasts the longest play in school history: a 105-yard interception return against Duke in 1946. That same year, he helped the Pack defeat Clemson with a 98-yard kickoff return, also the longest ever by an NC State player.

NC STATE FIGHT SONGS

THE RED AND WHITE

– Written by J. Perry Watson, Director of Music

We're the Red and White from State
And we know we are the best.
A hand behind our back,
We can take on all the rest.
Come o'er the hill, Caroline.
Devils and Deacs stand in line.
The Red and White from NC State.
Go State!!

NC STATE FIGHT SONG

– Words by Hardy Ray (1926) and music by Edward Gruber

Shout aloud to the men who will play the game to win
We're behind you, keep fighting for State,
Hold that line, hold 'em fast,
We'll reach victory at last
We're behind you, keep fighting for State,
Rise up to the fray and let your colors wave,
Shout out for dear old NC State! Go State!!
And where-e'er we go, we'll let the whole world know,
We're behind you, keep fighting for State!

NC STATE ALMA MATER

– Words by Alvin Fountain (1922) and music by Bonnie Norris (1923)

Where the winds of Dixie softly blow
O'er the fields of Caroline,
There stands ever cherished, NC State,
as thy honored shrine
So lift your voices!
Loudly sing from hill to oceanside!
Our hearts ever hold you, NC State in the folds of our love and pride.

MARCH 12, 1892

The North Carolina A&M football team squares off against a team from the Raleigh Male Academy at Raleigh's Athletic Park (now Pullen Park). The Aggies record a 12-6 victory in a game that includes two 45-minute halves and has plowed lines to serve as the boundaries of the field. The A&M team wears pink and blue uniforms and nearly 200 people attend the game.

1893

The A&M "Farmers" play their first college game against Tennessee in Raleigh, winning 12-6.

1895

North Carolina A&M, under the direction of Coach Bart Gatling, dons red and white uniforms for the first time.

NOVEMBER 8, 1902

The Farmers battle to a 0-0 tie against the well-established powerhouse from North Carolina in a game at the State Fair Grounds. Following the contest, the entire student body at Trinity College (now Duke University) sends the Farmers a congratulatory telegram.

OCTOBER 1, 1906

The Farmers use a new "trick play" in a 39-0 victory over Randolph-Macon at the Fair Grounds: the forward pass.

SEPTEMBER 1907

The Farmers play their first game at the New Athletic Park on the school campus versus Richmond. The site later becomes known as Riddick Field and then Riddick Stadium. The Red Terrors also brought home NC State's first football title that year, winning the South Atlantic Championship with a 6-0-1 record.

1909

Season tickets are sold for the first time. The price for five games? $2.00!

1910

The Farmers post a 4-0-2 record and win the South Atlantic Championship.

NOVEMBER 4, 1911

A scoreboard is installed at the A&M Athletic Field. The scoreboard informs the crowd which team has possession, the down and distance and the score.

1913

The Farmers posts a 6-1 record and win another South Atlantic Championship.

1918

The United States' entrance into World War I and a dangerous flu epidemic on campus forces State College, as A&M is now known, into reducing its schedule to four games. State produces its first All-American, as tackle John Ripple makes the Walter Camp second-team.

OCTOBER 23, 1919

State and Carolina meet for the first time since 1905. State players wear uniform numbers for the first time and the first game program is printed.

1921

State joins the Southern Conference and begins to wear red sweaters instead of white sweaters. Local newspapers begin referring to the squad as the Wolfpack for the first time.

1927

State wins its first official conference title (Southern Conference) with a 9-1 record.

SEPTEMBER 1930

NC State opens the 1930 season by playing its first night game. Under the newly installed lights of Riddick Stadium, the Pack defeats High Point, 37-0.

1937

NC State's new coach, Doc Newton, believes that the offensive huddle slows play too much, so he develops "The Huddle without a Huddle," using an instrument that the Associated Press describes as "a metal gadget the size of a pocket watch and somewhat similar to a baseball umpire's [ball-strike] indicator." Before each play, the tailback sets two numbers on the indicator - one for the play called and one for the snap count. The indicator is passed on to each of the players at his assigned position, and then the tailback deposits the gadget into a special pocket in his uniform pants. Needless to say, the practice lasts just one season and Newton begrudgingly lets his team huddle before each play.

1943

With every man over 18 who is fit for service inducted into the military, Coach Doc Newton doesn't have much to work with. To make matters worse, State hosts Army officer trainees and the Army won't allow its cadets to compete in intercollegiate athletics. North Carolina and Duke both host Navy programs, which allow its participants to play on varsity teams. The day before the Carolina game, 24 of Carolina's 90 players are placed on furlough by the Navy and the day before the Duke game, 23 members of that squad are transferred by the Navy. Nevertheless, State drops both contests.

NOVEMBER 10, 1945

Howard "Touchdown" Turner returns an interception 105 yards against Duke, the longest play in NC State history.

OCTOBER 8, 1946

The Wolfpack appears in the UPI poll (19th) for the first time after a 14-7 win over Clemson.

JANUARY 1, 1947

The Wolfpack is invited to play in the second annual Gator Bowl contest in Jacksonville, Fla. Each school receives $30,000 for participating in the contest. Forty-two players travel to Florida for the game against Oklahoma.

OCTOBER 23, 1948

The Wolfpack squad flies to an away game for the first time, bringing home a 7-0 win from Chattanooga.

OCTOBER 21, 1950

The Wolfpack appears on television for the first time. The Dumont Network regionally televises a 16-13 NC State victory at eighth-ranked Maryland.

1952

The Southern Conference bans schools from playing in bowl games and limits squads to just 40 players for conference games.

1953

NC State joins the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference. There is no league champion in the first year, but the ACC signs an agreement to send a conference school to the Orange Bowl for the next two years.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1954

Earle Edwards coaches his first game at NC State, a 21-30 loss at Virginia Tech. Edwards would go on to win five ACC titles during his 17 seasons with the program and put NC State on the map in the college football scene.

NOVEMBER 23, 1957

Dick Christy scores all 29 of NC State's points in a 29-26 victory at South Carolina that gives the Pack its first ACC championship. Although he has never attempted a field goal in a game, Christy boots a 47-yarder to give the Pack the win. The score had been 26-26 with State driving, but the Gamecocks seem to seal State's fate by intercepting a pass. Fans spill out of the stands to celebrate, but a defensive pass interference call gives the Wolfpack one more play.

NOVEMBER 28, 1961

Quarterback Roman Gabriel completes 17-22 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns in a 38-14 win over South Carolina, setting the ACC record for career completions.

NOVEMBER 22, 1963

NC State clinches a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship with a win over Wake Forest in Riddick Stadium. However, the celebration is overshadowed by the assassination of President John F. Kennedy that day in Dallas, Texas. The game had been moved to Friday night and news of the assassination came just hours before kickoff.

NOVEMBER 13, 1965

NC State plays its last game in Riddick Stadium, defeating Florida State, 3-0.

OCTOBER 8, 1966

NC State plays its first game in the new Carter Stadium, losing 21-31 to South Carolina.

OCTOBER 7, 1967

The Pack, with its "White Shoes" defense, upsets second-ranked Houston (7-6) in the Astrodome before a crowd of 52,483, the largest crowd ever to see an indoor football game at that time. Approximately 7,000 fans were waiting for the victorious State squad at the airport the next day.

1969

Clyde Chesney becomes the first African American to play football on the NC State varsity squad.

NOVEMBER 24, 1971

Thirty-four-year-old Lou Holtz is named head coach for the Wolfpack. Freshmen are eligible for the first time since World War II.

NOVEMBER 18, 1978

Ted Brown's #23 jersey is retired prior to a 24-10 win over Duke. Brown finishes his career with 4,602 yards, setting an ACC record that still stands.

Philip Rivers set the ACC records for passing yards and total offense. His jersey was retired prior to his final home game in 2003.

NOVEMBER 17, 1979

NC State defeats Duke, 28-7, to claim the ACC title.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1986

Head Coach Dick Sheridan and the diamond logo make their NC State debut, as NC State defeats East Carolina 38-10.

1991

NC State football celebrates its 100th birthday with a 9-3 record, a final AP ranking (24th), a second-place finish in the ACC, and its fourth consecutive trip to a bowl.

JANUARY 1, 1995

NC State makes its seventh consecutive bowl appearance, defeating Mississippi State 28-24 in the Peach Bowl.

SEPTEMBER 12, 1998

The Wolfpack upsets No. 2 Florida State, 24-9, at Carter-Finley Stadium, marking the first victory over a team ranked that high since a 1967 victory second-ranked Houston.

JANUARY 6, 2000

Chuck Amato is named the 32nd head coach in NC State history, returning to his alma mater after 18 years at Florida State University. Along with a new attitude, Amato brings the "Block S" logo back to the Wolfpack after a 14-year absence.

NOVEMBER 10, 2001

With a 34-28 victory, NC State becomes the first league team to win at Florida State in the decade since the Seminoles joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

OCTOBER 26, 2002

With a 38-6 win at Clemson before a national, ESPN Thursday night audience, the Wolfpack runs its record to 9-0, the best start in school history. That mark ties the longest win streak in school history.

JANUARY 1, 2003

The Wolfpack completes the winningest season in school history (11-3) with a 28-6 win over Notre Dame in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

APRIL 25, 2003

The Murphy Football Center is officially opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony in the facility's Gant Plaza. The state-of-the-art building boasts over 100,000 square feet devoted solely to the Wolfpack football program.

NOVEMBER 22, 2003

Philip Rivers' jersey is retired before the Pack's final game. Rivers finished his career ranked second in NCAA history with 13,484 passing yards and 13,582 yards of total offense, both ACC records. He was named the 2003 ACC Player of the Year after setting an NCAA Division I record for career starts by a quarterback with 51.

MARCH 14, 2004

Demolition begins on the old press box to make way for "Wolfpack Towers," Carter-Finley Stadium's new facility that will house luxury suites and press box begins to rise.

NOVEMBER 27, 2004

NC State plays its season finale and becomes just the third team in ACC history to lead the NCAA in total defense, giving up just 221.4 yards per game.

OCTOBER 29, 2005

Freshman tailback Andre Brown runs for 248 yards and two touchdowns in a win over Southern Miss, the second-highest rushing tally in school history. His 279 yards of total offense marked the most ever posted in Carter-Finley Stadium.

DECEMBER 31, 2005

NC State caps off its season with a 14-0 shutout of South Florida in the Meineke Car Care Bowl. It marks the first time the Wolfpack had posted a shutout in a bowl game and was the only shutout in a 2005 bowl game.

APRIL 29, 2006

The Wolfpack's Mario Williams becomes the first player in ACC history to be selected as the number-one pick in the NFL draft. Williams, who was selected by the Houston Texans, was one of three NC State players taken in the first round.

WALK OF CHAMPIONS

It might be a relatively new tradition, but it has become one of the fans' and players' favorite parts of Wolfpack football. A couple of hours before kickoff, fans begin lining the walkways in front of the Murphy Football Center, forming a path for the team to walk through. When the team buses arrive, the coaches and players walk across the front of the Murphy Center to the lockerroom entrance on the opposite side of the building.

The band and cheerleaders are there, but the majority of the excitement comes from the thousands of Wolfpack fans who line the narrow path, cram between trees and jam the plaza in front of the building to cheer on the Pack before they get dressed for the game.

CONFERENCE TITLES

NC State has won nine official conference titles (as well as three South Atlantic Championships in the first decade of the 20th century). The legendary Earle Edwards led the Wolfpack to five ACC Championships during his 17-year tenure as head coach, while Lou Holtz and Bo Rein each gained a league title for NC State.

Current Wolfpack head coach Chuck Amato was a player on the 1966 ACC Championship squad, and was an assistant coach on the 1973 and 1979 State squads that also won league titles.

GRID-GRAPH

A new technological innovation, the Grid-Graph, was used for the first time on November 4, 1911, when the Farmers played at Navy. The grid graph was installed in Pullen Hall in order to help fans follow the squad when it played on the road. Information from the game was sent via telegraph wire to Pullen Hall and the results were written on a large blackboard. Gentlemen who wished to follow the road games were charged a quarter to monitor the grid-graph. Ladies were admitted free of charge.

HALL OF FAMERS

The honor of being elected to the College Football Hall of Fame is the highest one accorded in the collegiate game and the Wolfpack has three former players in that elite group. Former Wolfpack consensus All-American Jim Ritcher is the most recent inductee, joining Jack McDowall, who played for NC State from 1925-27 and was inducted in 1975, and former Pack quarterback Roman Gabriel, who was inducted in 1988.

ROBOT WOLF

In 1946, NC State was 8-2 and lost to Oklahoma in the 1947 Gator Bowl, the first postseason bowl appearance in school history. That same year was also key to the adoption of the nickname "Wolf-pack" for all varsity sports the following year. Many people have heard the story of how the nickname came about, but few have heard of the Robot Wolf, the first mascot at NC State.

A mechanical engineering student, Ira Helms, planned to design and build a robot wolf for the Wake Forest game. After weighing the cost and difficulty of making a robot wolf, Helms opted for a hollow wolf that a person could wear as a large metal suit. The metal wolf stood seven feet tall with a 120-inch chest and size 16 shoes. Helms was inside the "wolf" while a student operated a fake control box from the outside creating the illusion of a robot wolf. Helms only wore the metal wolf for one game, but the cheerleaders took over the controls of "Helm's Monster" for the rest of the season. It was never used again, but the birth of a mascot had taken place.

KOOL KOYOTES

Although the 1967 squad is generally remembered as the team with the "White Shoes" defense, that squad earned another nickname that also gained national recognition at the time. That season, the NC State students responsible for buying the team's live wolf mascot were duped by an unscrupulous animal dealer. These students were obviously not zoology majors, as they purchased a coyote, thinking it was a wolf. When the hoax became public, the team became known as the "Kool Koyotes," a nickname that stuck, thanks in large part to an article in Sports Illustrated.

"LIKE A WOLFPACK"

This was the complaint made about the student body's behavior at athletic events by a disgruntled fan in 1922. Prior to that comment, the State teams had been referred to as the Farmers, the Aggies, the Techs, and the Red Terrors. The new nickname obviously stuck, probably much to the consternation of that disgruntled fan!

In 1945, during the height of the second World War, the German U-boat fleet was commonly referred to as the "Wolfpack." Because of this negative connotation, Chancellor J.W. Harrelson attempted to get the student body to agree to change the athletic nickname. The student body wanted nothing to do with the suggestion, and even went so far as to purchase a live wolf to roam the sidelines.

The wolf was nicknamed State, but he made just one appearance at Riddick Stadium. According to UPI, the wolf had "to be dragged across the field, a sniping and snarling bundle of fur."

"THE...(PINK AND BLUE...BROWN AND WHITE)...RED AND WHITE FROM STATE..."

When NC State was founded in 1887, it was called the North Carolina College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts (A&M). When A&M fielded its first football team in 1892, the squad took the field in pink and blue uniforms. In 1895, after three years wearing the not quite intimidating color scheme, the squad voted to wear brown and white. That less than colorful design lasted just a year before the student body decided on red and white for the school colors.

RIDDICK STADIUM

When football began at NC State in 1892, the team practiced on whatever parts of the campus were uncultivated and without trees. Some of the earliest playing fields the Pack used were at Pullen Park, the State Fairgrounds and the area where Thompson Theater now stands.

In 1905, the school trustees approved using a portion of the campus known as the Crawford Farm as a permanent stadium site. In 1907, the new stadium was ready for play. The facility was officially named Riddick Stadium in 1912 after W.C. Riddick, who was considered the "Father of Athletics" at North Carolina State College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts.

Riddick Stadium was eventually enlarged to accommodate crowds of 20,000 and served as the home of the Wolfpack through the 1965 season. The old stadium field is now a parking lot, with one side of the stands still standing until last year. The old field house has been converted into the headquarters for NC State's Public Safety Department.

GOING BOWLING

Chuck Amato is just the fourth coach in ACC history and the second in NC State history to have earned bowl appearances in each of his first four years as head coach and Amato has now gone to five bowls in six years.

Amato's 2000 squad defeated Minnesota in the micronpc.com Bowl, the 2001 squad fell to Pittsburgh in the Tangerine Bowl, and the 2002 Wolfpack upended Notre Dame in the Gator Bowl. In 2003, NC State walloped Kansas, 56-26, in the Mazda Tangerine Bowl in Philip Rivers' final collegiate game. Last season, the Wolfpack bowled a 14-0 shutout of South Florida in the Meineke Car Care Bowl, the first shutout in school history.

Lou Holtz took the Wolfpack to four straight bowl games from 1972-75 (Peach, Liberty, Bluebonnett and Peach). Bobby Ross took his first four Maryland squads to bowl games (Aloha, Citrus, Sun and Cherry), while Tommy Bowden has taken his first five Clemson squads to bowls (two Peach, Gator, Humanitarian and Tangerine).

STATE FAIR

NC State football and the North Carolina State Fair became a tradition when Carter-Finley Stadium opened in 1966. The stadium and fairgrounds are adjacent to one another, and 50 weeks a year this allows the university to use the fairgrounds' parking lots for football game-day and other stadium event parking.

However, for those other two weeks, parking is definitely at a premium for both events. Fair Week is in October every year, right in the middle of football season, and when the Wolfpack plays a home game that week the gridlock that ensues is utterly spectacular.

Capacity at Carter-Finley Stadium is 57,082 and a typical Saturday crowd at the fair, especially on a sunny day, is more than twice that. That means that when NC State football and the fair collide, more than 150,000 people all converge on an area that is about one square mile in size, creating some interesting traffic issues.

SIGN OF THE WOLF

It's easy to do: just touch your middle finger and your ring finger to your thumb to make the nose and hold your pinkie and your forefinger in the air to make the ears. You've made a wolf!

IT MUST BE THE SHOES

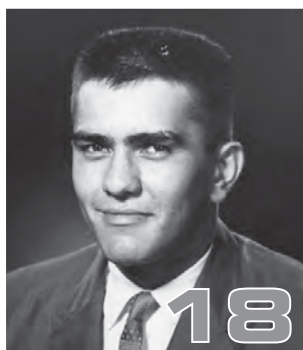

Before the 1967 season opener with North Carolina, a group of Wolfpack defenders, led by a fiery senior named Chuck Amato, came up with a unique fashion statement that would bond their unit together: they took their black cleats and polished them white. After a 13-7 victory over the Tar Heels, the polishing quickly became a Friday night tradition.

The Pack defense allowed just 94 points in 11 games that season, but the luck that may or may not have had anything to do with shoe color almost came to an end when the squad traveled to the Astrodome to play second-ranked Houston. Because the game would be played on artificial grass, the Pack had to borrow soccer shoes from the Houston Athletic Department.

The defensive players pondered the ethical implications of changing the color of the borrowed footwear, but finally decided that the white shoes were a necessity. The charm worked, as the Pack defense held the nation's top-ranked offense scoreless in three quarters, recovered three fumbles, intercepted two passes, blocked an extra point and a field goal attempt in an NC State upset.

RETIRED JERSEYS

ROMAN GABRIEL

At NC State: A two-time All-American, Roman Gabriel starred at quarterback for NC State in the early 1960's and finished his career holding virtually every Wolfpack passing record. An academic All-American, Gabriel saw his jersey retired and presented to him by Governor Terry Sanford on Jan. 20, 1962 at half-time of an NC State-Maryland basketball game in Reynolds Coliseum. A first-round draft pick by the Los Angeles Rams, he went on to a distinguished professional career.

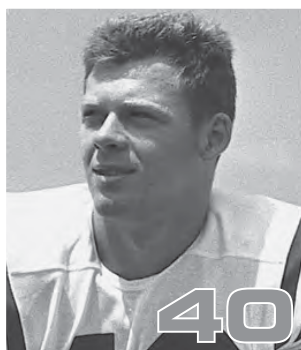

In the Professional Ranks: Gabriel went on to play 15 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Los Angeles Rams (1962-72) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-77). He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969 and earned Pro Bowl spots in 1967, 1968, and 1969. He ranked as the Rams' all-time passing leader with 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns (1,705 com./3,313 att.) and threw for 7,221 yards and 45 touchdowns (661 com./1,185 att.) with the Eagles. In 1973, he led the NFL with 3,219 yards and 23 touchdown passes. He still holds the Rams' career records for: touchdown passes (154), passing yards (22,223), passes attempted (3,313), and passes completed 1,705. Was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

JIM RITCHER
(OL)

At NC State: Jim Ritcher is one of three Atlantic Coast Conference players to win the Outland Trophy, awarded annually to the nation's premier lineman. A two-time consensus All-American, Ritcher won the Outland Trophy as a Wolfpack senior in 1979, when he literally cleared the way for NC State to earn the ACC Championship. Still an active member of the Wolfpack family, Ritcher, whose son John is a redshirt freshman for the 2002 squad, thrived in the NFL for 16 years, playing in four Super Bowls with the Buffalo Bills. Ritcher's No. 51 was retired on Feb. 8, 1987. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.

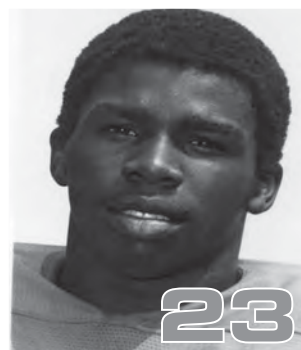

In the Professional Ranks: A first-round draft choice in 1980, Ritcher went on to play 16 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Buffalo Bills (1980-93) and the Atlanta Falcons (1994-95). An All-Pro choice in 1986, 1988, and 1990, Ritcher played in the 1992 and 1993 Pro Bowls. He also played in four Super Bowls with Buffalo and played in more games than any other Buffalo Bill (225). He was inducted into the Buffalo Hall of Fame in 2005.

DICK CHRISTY
(HB)

At NC State: Scoring all 29 of NC State's points, Dick Christy earned the Wolfpack its first Atlantic Coast Conference Championship in a 29-26 win in the Pack's season-finale at South Carolina on Nov. 23, 1957. Christy earned first team All-America recognition from the Associated Press and United Press International for his efforts that season. He ended his career in '57, holding 14 NC State records and four ACC records. Nearly 40 years later, Christy's jersey was retired on Nov. 8, 1997 in a game against Maryland.

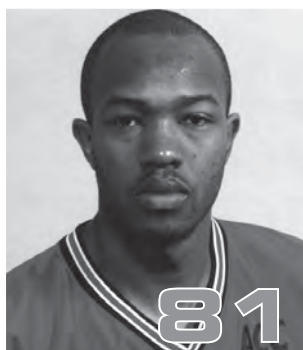

In the Professional Ranks: Christy played five seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1958), Boston Patriots (1960) and the New York Titans (1961-63). He was selected to play in the 1962 AFL All-Star game and led the AFL and NFL in punt returns in 1961 and 1962 with 21.3 and 16.7 yards per return, respectively. In 1962, he was named his team's MVP, when he led the squad in rushing, punt returns and kickoff returns.

TED
(RB)

At NC State: Ted Brown is inarguably the greatest running back to play for NC State, if not in the entire Atlantic Coast Conference. A native of High Point, N.C., Brown rushed for a school and ACC record 4,602 yards from 1975-78. He scored 51 touchdowns during his career, which still stands as the top mark in ACC history. His jersey was retired during pregame ceremonies prior to his final home game on Nov. 18, 1978 against Duke. He was a first-round draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings where he enjoyed an all-star career.

In the Professional Ranks: Brown starred for eight seasons in the NFL as a member of the Minnesota Vikings squad from 1979-86. He scored 53 career touchdowns (40 rushing and 13 receiving), the fifth-best mark in Viking history. His 4,546 career rushing yards ranks third in the history of that franchise.

TORRY
HOLT (WR)

At NC State: Torry Holt was a human highlight film for NC State from 1995-98, and culminated his career by being named a consensus All-American. Holt rewrote the NC State record books, setting single game, single season and career records in almost every passing category. He also set an ACC record with 3,379 reception yards for his career. The two-time All-ACC performer was named the ACC Player of the Year and Offensive Player of the Year following his senior campaign, and was also a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award, honoring the nation's top wide receiver. His jersey was retired on Jan. 16, 1999 during halftime ceremonies of the final NC State-UNC basketball contest that was played in Reynolds Coliseum.

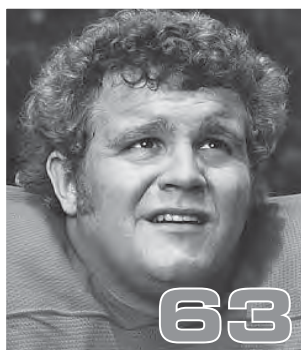

In the Professional Ranks: Holt was a first-round draft pick of the Saint Louis Rams in 1999, the sixth selection overall, and has already made the Pro Bowl five times. He won a Super Bowl ring during his rookie campaign, and in the process set Super Bowl rookie records with seven catches and 109 receiving yards. He was the first player in NFL history to record five straight seasons with 1,300 receiving yards, and he was the fifth-fastest in NFL history to 5,000 yards and fourth-fastest to 500 career receptions.

DENNIS
BYRD
(DL)

At NC State: Dennis Byrd was a dominating presence for the Wolfpack's famed "White Shoes" defense, competing on the defensive line for NC State from 1965-67. An adept pass rusher who combined size, agility, strength and a desire for hitting, Byrd was the Pack's first consensus All-American, earning honors in 1967. He was also the first three-time All-ACC player in league history, earning accolades all three years that he lettered. As a junior, he led the voting for All-ACC lineman and after his senior campaign, participated in four college all-star games.

In the Professional Ranks: Byrd was a first-round draft pick of the Boston Patriots of the American Football League in 1968.

BILL
YOEST
(OG)

At NC State: A consensus All-American guard, Bill Yoest lettered for the Wolfpack from 1970-73 and was the recipient of the 1973 Jacobs Blocking Trophy. A Pittsburgh native, Yoest won All-America honors from the Associated Press, UPI, Football Writers, Football Coaches, NEA and Walter Camp that season. Yoest was selected for two postseason all-star games, the '74 Hula Bowl and the East-West Shrine Game, in which he was elected co-captain of the East squad. His No. 63 was retired at halftime of the North Carolina game, Sept. 27, 2003.

In the Professional Ranks: Played a short stint with the Orlando Blazers of the World Football League and then returned to Raleigh, where he started a financial services business.

PHILIP RIVERS

At NC State: The 2003 ACC Player of the Year, Philip Rivers started all 51 games at quarterback for the Wolfpack over his four years, an NCAA record. Rivers rewrote the record books for both NC State and the ACC in every passing and total offense category. Rivers ended up the second-leading passer in NCAA history with 13,494 career passing yards and 13,582 career yards of total offense and finished tied for fifth in NCAA history with 95 career TD passes. The Athens, Ala., native capped off his marvelous career with a stellar senior season in which Rivers led the nation with a 72.0 completion percentage and 170.49 pass efficiency rating. Rivers became the first QB in ACC history and only the seventh in NCAA history to throw for 3,000 yards in three different seasons. The MVP of the 2003 Tangerine Bowl with his fifth 400-yard passing day of the year, Rivers was also named the MVP of the Senior Bowl. His jersey, number 17, was retired before his final home game, Nov. 22, 2003.

In the Professional Ranks: A first round draft choice, Rivers was selected by the New York Giants with the fourth pick of the 2004 NFL Draft and was traded to the San Diego Chargers minutes later. He heads into the 2006 season as the Chargers' starting signal caller.

MARIO WILLIAMS, DE

2005 - Sports Illustrated (1st), Walter Camp (2nd); 2004 - Freshman All-American - Football News, Football Writers, Sporting News

MARIO WILLIAMS

Mario Williams followed his record-setting college career by becoming the first ACC player ever to earn the number-one pick in the NFL draft. A two-time first-team All-ACC performer, the Richlands, N.C., native was named the team MVP for 2005 when he set the NC State single-season records for tackles for loss (27.5) and sacks (14.5). That sack total led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally, while his TFLs ranked second in the league, tied for sixth nationally. The NC State career record holder with 55.5 stops behind the line of scrimmage, his 25.5 career sacks tied for the best mark in school history. He also set the Wolfpack single game records for tackles for loss (6) and sacks (4) in the win over Southern Miss.

COVERING THE WOLFPACK

The NC State Media Relations Office wants to make covering the Wolfpack an enjoyable and productive experience for the media. Please feel free to call any of us at any time for information or interviews.

CREDENTIALS - Credentials for NC State home games are issued for working media only and should be requested as soon as possible due to space limitations and demand. Requests are honored from sports editors of DAILY newspapers and television sports directors only. Requests from weekly newspapers and radio stations will be accepted only from those who will be attending games in a WORKING capacity and will be filled on a space-available basis. Spouses, dates, and non-workers are not permitted in the press box.

Credentials will be mailed if time permits or can be picked up at the Media Relations Office until 3:00 p.m. the day before the game. Otherwise, they will be left at the press will-call booth at Gate 1 behind the press box at Carter-Finley Stadium.

Requests should be made in writing to Assistant Athletics Director for Media Relations Annabelle Vaughan at Box 8502, Raleigh, NC 27695-8501 or via fax at (919) 515-2898.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE - NC State football practices are open to the photographers only for the first 20 minutes on most Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, but you must contact the Media Relations Office if you plan to attend. If media members wish to conduct brief interviews with Coach Amato or players following practice, they should check with the media relations staff to find out what time practice will conclude.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Monday Media Conference

Coach Amato plays host to a weekly media conference on Mondays at 2:00 p.m. in the Murphy Center Media Room. Two Wolfpack players will also be in attendance. Coach Amato will visit with electronic media for approximately 30 minutes, while the players meet with the print media. The two will switch places at approximately 2:30 p.m.

The media conference may also be accessed by appropriate media outlets via teleconference. Please call the Media Relations Office to obtain the number.

Sunday Afternoon Teleconference

Coach Amato will be available briefly via telephone on Sunday afternoons following games. Please call the media relations office to access the phone number and time.

Player Interviews

Players are available for interviews in person or via telephone on Mondays through Wednesdays of game

ACC SATELLITE FEED

Highlights of ACC Football will be made available every week. For more information contact Scott McBurney at the ACC Office - 336/851-6062.

Wolfpack-Capitol Sports Network

The Wolfpack-Capitol Sports Network, one of the leading broadcasting units in the nation, will be heard for the 42nd year through North Carolina and across much of the Eastern seaboard during the 2005 football season.

The network is managed by Wolfpack Sports Marketing and distributed by the Capitol Sports Network in Raleigh. The flagship station is WPTF-680 AM, a 50,000-watt station.

All the action is brought to the devoted Wolfpack listeners by veteran play-by-play man Gary Hahn, who is in his 16th season as the voice of the Wolfpack. Joining Hahn in the booth is former Wolfpack All-American Johnny Evans, who provides color commentary. Manning the sidelines will be NC State alumnus Tony Haynes, who is returning for his seventh season covering NC State football.

Following each contest, the network follows the Pack into the locker room for live interviews with head coach Chuck Amato and NC State's players.

For more information about the Wolfpack-Capitol Sports Network, contact Wolfpack Sports Marketing, 711 Hillsborough Street, P.O. Box 12900, Raleigh, NC 27605, or call (919) 831-9653.

weeks. All player interviews should be scheduled through the Media Relations Office and most will be conducted in the Media Relations Office or after practice. NC State players will not accept calls from members of the media in their rooms.

Post-Practice Interviews

Coach Amato and the coaching staff will be available to the media after practice on the field on Tuesdays through Thursday, while players will be available on Tuesday and Wednesday. Interviews will be conducted only after all practice and conditioning work is completed. The media is encouraged to attempt to schedule player interviews earlier in the day. Only brief player interviews will be allowed after practice.

Postgame Interviews

Following a brief cooling-off period, requested NC State players will be brought to the Murphy Center Media Room. Requests for players will be collected in the press box, midway through the fourth quarter. A representative from the Media Relations Office will also collect requests from the on-field media near the end of the game.

Approximately 10 minutes after the players begin their interview session, Coach Amato will be available in the auditorium as well.

Injury Reports

If a player is injured during the course of a game, an announcement will be made in the press box regarding the type of injury and if the player is expected to return to the game.

Coach Amato will give an update on any injuries at his Monday afternoon press conference and the media relations office will send out an updated injury report on Friday afternoons. There will be no other updates on injuries during the week.

ACC WEEKLY COACHES TELECONFERENCE

The 12 ACC football coaches will be featured on a weekly teleconference each Wednesday from 10:30 a.m., to 12:30 p.m., (8/30 - 11/21). There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on TheACC.com each Wednesday afternoon.
